

Photocopiable Activities Teacher's Notes

1A Greetings

Activity	Pair or groupwork. Students play a Pelmanism game to practice greeting phrases.
Time	15 minutes
Preparation	Copy and cut out a set of cards for each pair or group of three students.
Non-cut alternative	Copy one sheet for each pair of students in the class.

Procedure

- Divide the students into pairs or groups of three. Give each pair / group a set of cards.
- Before students begin the main activity, tell them to match the cards to make greeting phrases, e.g. Nice to with meet you to make Nice to meet you. Check they have the correct matches.
- Now ask the students to shuffle the cards then spread them out face down on the desk.
- Explain the activity. Students take turns to choose two of the cards on the desk and turn them face up. The aim is to find the beginning and ending of a greeting phrase. If a student reveals a matching pair, they say the phrase aloud and keep the cards. If they are unsuccessful, they turn both cards face down again and the next student has a go. The winner is the student with the most pairs at the end.
- When students have played one game, tell them to shuffle the cards and play again.
- For a non-cut alternative, put the students into A + B pairs. Give each pair a copy of the sheet. A says the first half of a phrase and B completes it; then B gives the first half of a phrase for A to complete. Allow time for students to practise in this way. Then ask Bs to turn over their sheet, so that it's face down on the desk. Students repeat the activity, but this time A says the first half of each phrase and B has to complete it from memory. Set a time limit for this. When the time is up, tell students to swap roles.

Nice to meet you. Good morning. Nice to meet you. My name's Jill. I'm fine, thanks. See you later Jim. Bye!	Hi, I'm Suzie. See you later. Bye! My name is Alexia. I'm fine, thanks. And you? What's your name? Hi, Pete. How are you?

1B Bingo

Activity	Groupwork. Students practice numbers one to twenty by playing a bingo game.
Time	15 minutes
Preparation	Copy the sheet and cut out one bingo card (per game) for each student in the class.

Procedure

- Give each student a bingo card. If you have a class larger than twelve students, you can give more than one student the same card. Alternatively, put students into pairs and hand out one card between two.
- Explain that you are going to play a game of bingo. Tell students that you will call out numbers between one and twenty at random. If you call a number that they have on their card, they cross it out. When they have crossed out all the numbers on their card, they shout bingo!

- Call out numbers from one to twenty at random and tick them off in the box below as you go.
- When a student calls bingo, ask them to say the numbers on their card. Check that they are numbers you have ticked. If not, continue the game. The first student to cross off all their numbers is the winner.
- Divide the students into groups to play a second game. Choose one person in each group to be the caller. Give the others a new bingo card from the sheet. Tell the callers to call out numbers from one to twenty at random for their group. Remind them to keep note of the numbers as they call them.

1C Who are you?

Activity	Pairwork. Students complete an information gap activity to practice the present simple of be .
Time	15 minutes
Preparation	Copy and cut in half one sheet for each pair of students in the class.

Procedure

- Divide the students into groups A and B. Give out the worksheets.
- Explain the context of the activity: a language school receptionist is asking a new student questions in order to complete an enrolment form. Tell the students to look at the blank form on their worksheet and, in their groups, discuss what questions they need to ask in order to complete it. Monitor and help where necessary.
- Arrange the students into A + B pairs. Remind them not to look at each other's worksheet. Tell the Bs to ask questions and complete the blank form. As answer using the information in the two cards. Remind Bs to ask their partner to spell any difficult words. Set a time limit for this.
- When the time limit is up, tell students to swap roles. As ask questions and Bs answer.
- When they have finished, students compare their forms to check they recorded the information correctly.

1D Questions and answers

Activity	Groupwork. Students play a card game to practice asking and answering present simple questions with be .
Time	15 minutes
Preparation	Copy and cut out a set of cards for each group of three or four students.
Non-cut alternative	Copy one sheet for each student in the class.

Procedure

- Divide the students into groups of three or four. Give each group a set of cards. Ask the students to shuffle the cards and place them in a pile, face down on the desk.
- Demonstrate the activity. Write /Paris in Poland? on the board and ask students Is Paris in Poland? Elicit No, it isn't. It's in France. Repeat with Are Oxford and London in England? to elicit Yes, they are.

Case Studies in Language Curriculum Design John Macalister, I.S.P. Nation, 2013-05-13 Case studies are a powerful pedagogical tool for illuminating constructs and models in real life contexts Covering a wide range of teaching learning contexts and offering in depth analyses of ESL/ELT language curriculum design issues this casebook is distinctive and unique in that each case draws on and is clearly linked to a single model presented in Nation and Macalister's Language Curriculum Design www.routledge.com 9780415806060 giving the book a high degree of coherence A short commentary by the editors after each case highlights features of note and/or issues arising from it This is a versatile text designed to work as a companion to Language Curriculum Design adding meaning and depth to the model presented there by relating it to a range of applications as a stand alone text or as a resource for language teacher trainees teacher educators practicing teachers program administrators and materials writers in the field Carr V. Koch, 2011 Native-Speakerism Stephanie Ann Houghton, Jérémie Bouchard, 2020-11-13 This book explores native speakerism in modern language teaching and examines the ways in which it has been both resilient and critiqued It provides a range of conceptual tools to situate ideological discourses and processes within educational contexts In turn it discusses the interdiscursive nature of ideologies and the complex ways in which ideologies influence objective and material realities including hiring practices and more broadly speaking unequal distributions of power and resources In closing it considers why the diffusion and consumption of ideological discourses seem to persist despite ongoing critical engagement by researchers and practitioners and proposes alternative paradigms aimed at overcoming the problems posed by the native speaker model in foreign language education

Theoretical and Applied Perspectives on Teaching Foreign Languages in Multilingual Settings Anna Krulatz, Georgios Neokleous, Anne Dahl, 2022-06-21 This book promotes linguistically responsive foreign language teaching practices in multilingual contexts by facilitating a dialogue between teachers and researchers It advances a discussion of how to connect the acquisition of subsequent foreign languages with previous language knowledge to create culturally and linguistically inclusive foreign language classrooms and how to strengthen the connection between research on multilingualism and foreign language teaching practice The chapters present new approaches to foreign language instruction in multilingual settings many of them forged in collaboration between foreign language teachers and researchers of multilingualism The authors report findings of classroom based research including case studies and action research on topics such as the functions and applications of translanguaging in the foreign language classroom the role of learners' own languages in teaching additional languages linguistically and culturally inclusive foreign language pedagogies and teacher and learner attitudes to multilingual teaching approaches Technology-Enhanced Learning and Linguistic Diversity Patrick-André Mather, 2020-11-26 Drawing on research and hands on experience this book includes contributions which draw on linguistic research on 2nd and 3rd language acquisition as well as case studies of specific challenges in teaching content

Forum, 2008 Doing a Master's Dissertation in TESOL and Applied Linguistics Lindy Woodrow, 2019-10-11

Doing a Master's Dissertation in TESOL and Applied Linguistics is a practical guide for master's students tackling research and research writing for the first time. Structured for use in class or as part of an independent study and divided into the four stages of designing, researching, writing up, and submitting a dissertation, this book carefully guides readers from the very beginning of producing a research proposal all the way through to assessment procedures and the provisions for resubmission. It covers publishing your dissertation and applying for higher research degrees, including funding addresses. All the most fundamental concerns students have about master's dissertations, including how to choose a topic and conducting a literature review, are drawn upon with examples from master's dissertations from the UK, US, and Australia. It provides numerous how-to tables and checklists and includes activities and resources to facilitate master's research and dissertation writing, as well as FAQs and solutions at the end of each chapter. Tailormade for MA students in TESOL or Applied Linguistics, this book is essential reading for students on these degrees around the world, as well as for their supervisors and programme directors.
