A Critical History of Economics John Mills, 2002-10-23 John Mills provides a critical survey of the way economics has developed He argues that the main goal of economics ought to be to show how to achieve a combination of economic growth full employment low inflation avoidance of extreme poverty and sustainability That it has failed to do so is neither inevitable nor accidental It has failed because of a combination of intellectual error and the effects of social and political pressure which Mills claims could and should have been avoided The Penguin Macquarie Dictionary of Economics & Finance Richard Tardif, 1988 Guide to economic and business terms concepts institutions and theorists

Stewardship Economy 7: Series bibliography and further economics Julian Pratt, Some economics explained economic terms and bibliography This book provides an introduction for the Stewardship Economy series to some key economic concepts for the non specialist and lists the references as far as they are available

The Economics of Human Rights Ruud Bronkhorst, 2021-01-05 This book provides new insights into combining economic theory and ethics and how to formulate policies to combat the roots of poverty Since a large part of the world's working population is underpaid and does not have enough income to feed themselves and their families there is a need for an alternative approach to producer prices than the usual neo classical approach with its emphasis on market and equilibrium prices This book is an introduction to the Living Income Fair Price approach a price theory based on ethics and Universal Human Rights The book explains why there is a need for a paradigm change in our thinking about prices by explaining why the usual market prices rarely are equilibrium prices Besides market disturbing elements like monopolies and oligopolies the needs of the poorest parts of the population are not taken into consideration because they are not reflected in the effective demand This means that the way our producers are paid needs a drastic overhaul especially in a critical area like food production An important part of the book is devoted to the need to pay and the possibilities for paying a decent price to smallholder farmers The underpayment of small food producers means they have no possibility to invest and are not able to prepare for the future This is even more pressing now that climate change demands that every farmer must adjust to changing circumstances and adapt new production methods Although primarily meant for economists the book meant also to stimulate discussion amongst those involved in agricultural policies both in developing and developed countries

Economic Emancipation Albert Okechukwu Ikpenwa, 2011 This work focuses on economic activities especially in the era of globalization taking into consideration their relationship with some of the traditional values of the Church It focuses particularly on the dignity of the human person and how such relationship can promote or alienate the human person from God self fellow humans society and nature Rev Father Dr Albert Okechukwu Ikpenwa holds B Phil and BD from Pontifical Urban University Rome Masters and Doctorate degrees from Alphonsian Academy Alfonsianum Higher Institute of Moral Theology of the Pontifical Lateran University Rome

Crisis, Economics and the Emperor's Clothes Frans Doorman, 2013-06-01 Why isn't society doing better economically socially and environmentally Why have the advances in science and technology not led to more wealth well being and a brighter outlook for humanity This book argues part of the blame lies with the theory and practice of economics Standard economics is based on poorly conceived premises and method resulting in misguided policy prescriptions These helped cause the 2007 crisis inhibit economic recovery foster future crises and restrain society in addressing its social and environmental problems The book shows that what is considered responsible economic financial and fiscal policy puts society in an economic straightjacket that prevents the full development of its productive potential It presents the outline of a new economics a social science that can help generate the productive potential to create a dynamic socially equitable and environmentally sustainable society
