Green Accounting Initiatives and Strategies for Sustainable Development Caraiani, Chirața, Lungu, Camelia I., Dascălu, Cornelia, Colceag, Florian, 2015-07-24 In today's society environmental concerns are at the forefront of entrepreneurial decision making and planning. With increased attention on an organization's environmental impact, researchers and business leaders strive to provide the best methodologies and strategies for effective environmental reporting and accountability. Green Accounting Initiatives and Strategies for Sustainable Development presents the latest scholarly research on the economic, social, and environmental objectives essential to the planning and support of future organizations and communities. This publication is an essential reference source for academicians, researchers, advanced level students, and professionals interested in designing business models and financial plans with consideration for environmental and social liabilities. This publication features timely research-based chapters on economic, social, and environmental policies, including but not limited to green performance measurement, triple bottom line reporting, sustainable societies, environmental protection, and risk and adaptive management.

Advances in Applications of Computational Intelligence and the Internet of Things Rajdeep Chowdhury, S. K. Niranjana, 2022-06-01 This new volume illustrates the diverse applications of IoT. The volume addresses the crucial issue of data safekeeping along with the development of a new cryptographic and security technology, as well as a range of other advances in IoT. The volume looks at the application of IoT in medical technology and healthcare, including the design of IoT-based mobile healthcare units and a blockchain technique-based smart health record system. Other topics include a blended IoT-enabled learning approach through a study employing clustering techniques, an IoT-enabled garbage disposal system with an advanced message notification system through an Android application, IoT-based self-healing concrete that uses bacteria, and environmental waste, an IoT-enabled trash-the-ash application that regulates flow, and more. The fresh and innovative advances that demonstrate computational intelligence and IoT in practice that are discussed in this volume will be informative for academicians, scholars, scientists, industry professionals, policymakers, government, and non-government organizations and others.

Pharmacy Practice Dr. R. E. Ugandar, Mr. Panshu Chauhan, Mrs. Meena Bandiya, Dr. R. Kavya, The purpose of this book is to further the understanding of basic disease mechanisms in clinical settings, as well as the aetiology, systems, and clinical implications of pathological alterations in cells, tissues, organs, or systems. In order for pharmacy students to comprehend the relationship between symptoms and disease, which may be beneficial in diagnosis, the book offers pharmacy students with the pathogenesis and clinical picture of numerous diseases that impact the human body. These ideas are used in a systems-oriented approach to the disease processes that involve the musculoskeletal, cardiac, neurological, gastrointestinal, immunological, haematological, and endocrine systems. The effects of disease states/conditions on drug pharmacokinetics and dosing, as well as drug interactions which may occur with the concurrent use of other agents, are all discussed in this book. Clinical monitoring parameter for the therapeutic response and toxicity as well as basic clinical pharmacokinetic parameters for compound are also discussed

Most-Cited Scholars in Criminology and Criminal Justice, 1986-2010 Ellen G Cohn, David P. Farrington, Amaia Iratzoqui, 2013-09-20 This brief examines the influence and prestige of scholars and works in the field of Criminology and Criminal Justice as well as changes in influence and prestige over a period of 25 years based on citation analysis. Methods of measuring scholarly influence can be highly controversial but the authors of this work clearly outline their methodology developed over years of experience working with this area of study. Through their expertise in Criminology and Criminal Justice they are able to solve problems that affect or confound many traditional forms of citation analysis such as irregularly cited references or self citations. It includes 25 years of data 1986 through 2010 on the most cited scholars and works in major American and international Criminology and Criminal Justice journals and provides an objective measure of influence and prestige. Through an analysis of the data the authors also document the intellectual development of criminology and criminal justice as a field of study since 1986. They highlight the development of research trends and indicate areas for future research. This book is designed for use by scholars and academics in the fields of Criminology and Criminal Justice and the methodology will be of interest to researchers in related disciplines including Sociology and Social Psychology. Cohn, Farrington and Iratzoqui provide an invaluable service in unpacking the criminological enterprise. Using systematic citational analysis they illuminate the core patterns of scholarly influence that have shaped the field's development. This volume is an essential resource for all those wishing to understand which scholars and writings have done most within and across time periods to affect thinking about crime and justice. Francis T Cullen Distinguished Research Professor University of Cincinnati. Citation analyses have become one of the most significant measures of scholarly influence. They are especially useful for revealing major trends over time regarding authors and the topics of interest to the wider field. Cohn, Farrington and Iratzoqui's Most Cited Scholars in Criminology and Criminal Justice 1986-2010 provides the most up to date comprehensive and longitudinal investigation of scholarly influence in criminology criminal justice. This resource is a most interesting read one that supplies not a mere counting of citations but clear ideas about where the field has been centered and where it is trending into the future. Alex R Piquero Ashbel Smith Professor of Criminology University of Texas at Dallas Towards a Psychophysiological Approach in Physical Activity, Exercise, and Sports Pedro Forte, Daniel Leite Portella, Diogo Monteiro, José Eduardo Teixeira, 2023-10-30 In recent years there has been an increase in interest in mental health disorders as a result of mediatic coverage of Olympic athletes mental health struggles and also due to the COVID 19 pandemic lockdowns. These phenomena helped to further exacerbate a problem already extensively present in sport and society. Therefore applying a psychophysiological approach to physical activity exercise and sports research has become very popular. Indeed mental fatigue and mental disorders are not only psychological in origin but also require an explanation from a psychophysiological perspective due to the effective interconnection between the psychological and physiological dimensions.

Psychological variables can also influence performance and the psychophysiological system has a strong effect on the control of physical capacities. Moreover, pacing behaviour, decision making, self-regulation and effort perception can also explain the role of the brain in physical activity and exercise management. Thus, the aim of this Research Topic is to share the impact of a psychophysiological approach in physical activity, exercise and sports. Cartography - Maps Connecting the World Claudia Robbi Sluter, Carla Bernadete Madureira Cruz, Paulo Márcio Leal de Menezes, 2015-07-10. This book is an important volume in the series on the state of art research in Cartography and GI Science. It is a collection of selected peer-reviewed papers organized into contemporary topics of research presented at the 27th International Cartographic Conference ICC in Rio de Janeiro. This is the 3rd edition of selected ICA conference papers published by Springer Lectures in Geoinformation and Cartography. The conference topic is maps connecting the world and Brazilian cartographers and geo-information scientists are honored to welcome their peers from all over the world to the event which will present some of the most important recent advances in cartography research and GI science. The most relevant papers will be selected for the Springer book and these will be organized into five sections according to topic area to provide a valuable cartography and GI science reference work.

Global Academic Publishing Mary Jane Curry, Theresa Lillis, 2017-11-22. This book reports on the state of academic journal publishing in a range of geolinguistic contexts including locations where pressures to publish in English have developed more recently than in other parts of the world e.g. Kazakhstan, Colombia, in addition to contexts that have not been previously explored or well documented. The three sections push the boundaries of existing research on global publishing which has mainly focused on how scholars respond to pressures to publish in English by highlighting research on evaluation policies, journals' responses in non-Anglophone contexts to pressures for English medium publishing and pedagogies for supporting scholars in their publishing efforts. Thalassas, 2008 Brazilian Journal of Biology, 2008 Prague Economic Papers, 2009 Quarterly journal of economic theory and policy Poznań Studies in Contemporary Linguistics, 2009 Manajemen penerbitan jurnal elektronik Lukman, Tinton Dwi Atmaja, Deden Sumitrat Hidayat, 2017 Practical introduction to electronic journal publishing Niên giám thông tin khoa học xã hội, 2013 Politická ekonomie, 2009 Вестник Российской академии наук, 2011 Thông tin khoa học xã hội, 2012 The Wall Street Journal, 2009 The Oil & Colour Trades Journal, 1922-04 The Author's & Writer's Who's who Edward Martell, 1971 Gale Directory of Databases, 2001
