Asian Cinemas Dimitris Eleftheriotis, Gary Needham, 2006 This book takes a number of detailed case studies and uses them to investigate the limitations of Anglo US theoretical models and critical paradigms in the study of Asian Cinema

Asian Cinemas Gary Needham, Dimitris Eleftheriotis, 2019-07-29 Asian cinema is an area of increasing interest in Anglo US film studies while Asian films are now widely distributed and popular with western audiences The fascination with Asian cinema must be examined in the context of a complex and often problematic relationship between western scholars students viewers and Asian films This book therefore examines a number of detailed case studies such as the films of Ozu Bruce Lee Hong Kong and Turkish cinema Hindi melodramas Godzilla films Taiwanese directors and Fifth

Generation Chinese cinema and uses them in order to investigate the limitations of Anglo US theoretical models and critical paradigms By engaging the readers with familiar areas of critical discourse such as postcolonial criticism national cinema genre authorship and stardom the book aims to introduce within such contexts the unfamiliar case studies which will be explored in depth and detail The advantage of such an approach is that it works with the dynamics of familiarity unfamiliarity and resists the temptation to construct Asian cinemas as a gallery of exotic objects that might be particularly fascinating but remain deeply distant and foreign Features A comprehensive study of Asian cinemas including Hong Kong Japan China India Turkey and Taiwan An accessible guide for the study and research of Asian cinema which addresses undergraduate and postgraduate students and researchers Each section contains a contextualising introduction Includes key texts by Ackbar Abbas Rey Chow David Desser Dimitris Eleftheriotis Nezhir Erdo

Southeast Asian Independent Cinema Tilman Baumgärtel,2012 The rise of independent cinema in Southeast Asia and the emergence of a new generation of filmmakers in the region are among the most significant recent developments in global cinema A new micro cinema has allowed small production teams working with small budgets to produce innovative films that have been shown at festivals around the world where they have garnered positive reviews and won awards This type of film whether radical experimental works gay love films or digital art house movies that address the ills of contemporary society did not exist in region at the start of the 21st century The privilege of producing films was limited to commercial studios that were often subsidiaries of powerful television stations and produced films in safe genres such as melodrama or comedy and a small group of independent outfits that made low grade films in genres such as soft sex action and horror The appearance of fresh sharply alternative and often very personal perspectives has had a major impact on local film production throughout the region The fact that digital video has not had a similar impact in other parts of the world gives added importance to the innovations taking place in Southeast Asia In Southeast Asian Independent Cinema the authors document these developments arguing that they are a genuine outcome of the democratization and liberalization of film production Contributions from respected scholars interviews with filmmakers personal accounts and primary sources by important
