SOMALI SOLUTIONS

Creating conditions for a gender-just peace

Dr Siham Rayale, Ed Pomfret and Deborah Wright

This report looks at Somali women's experiences with conflict, peace, violence, insecurity and state rebuilding. It uses an approach geared towards gender-just peace-building to understand the ways in which Somali women have fulfilled their role as agents of change, while navigating the challenges posed by women's exclusion from many forms of public life (government, civil society, universities, open markets etc). Interviews and focus groups have been used to illustrate diverse perspectives and to demonstrate that Somali women have always been principal agents of change and social transformation. The report's recommendations are an acknowledgement of the role Somali women have played throughout the course of Somali history, and continue to play today, in shaping the pathway towards greater participation for women across Somali regions, and the challenges they face in so doing.

Oxfam Research Reports are written to share research results, to contribute to public debate and to invite feedback on development and humanitarian policy and practice. They do not necessarily reflect Oxfam policy positions. The views expressed are those of the authors and not necessarily those of Oxfam.

Power-Sharing Pacts and the Women, Peace and Security Agenda Siobhan Byrne, Allison McCulloch, 2021-11-29 This book offers a comparative lens on the contested relationship between two leading conflict resolution norms ethno-political power sharing pacts and the women peace and security WPS agenda Championed by national governments and international organizations over the last two decades power sharing and feminist scholars and practitioners tend to view them as opposing norms Critics charge that power sharing scholars cast gender as an inconsequential political identity that does not motivate people like ethnonationalism From a feminist perspective such thinking serves the interests of ethnicized elites while excluding women and other marginalized communities from key sites of political power This edited volume takes a different tack while recognizing the gender gaps that still exist in power sharing theory and practice contributors also emphasize the constructive engagements that can be built between ethno-political power sharing and gender inclusion Three main themes are highlighted The gender silences of existing power sharing arrangements The impact of gender activism and advocacy on the negotiation and implementation of power sharing pacts in divided societies The opportunities for linkages between power sharing and the women peace and security agenda The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Nationalism and Ethnic Politics Journal of the Anglo-Somali Society, 2001 USAID's
