Frederick Law Olmsted, 1928 Frederick Law Olmsted, Landscape Architect, 1822-1903: Central Park Frederick Law Olmsted, 1928 Ten Thousand Central Parks David Brown Morris, 2025-10-07 A visionary look at Central Park's creation as an urban success story inspiring bold climate action Climate change is the existential crisis of our time With extreme heatwaves wildfires hurricanes and floods displacing millions many wonder What can I do Ten Thousand Central Parks challenges the despair of inaction using the history of Central Park as an unlikely yet urgent environmental parable Created in the years immediately before during and after the Civil War Central Park is a radical experiment in urban renewal transforming a chaotic and polluted terrain into an 843 acre refuge More than a scenic landmark it was a visionary public project that provided jobs green space and a lasting environmental legacy Designed by Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux the park was America's first large scale public works project undertaken at a time of national crisis and built almost entirely by immigrants Its creation offers a powerful lesson Even in turbulent times cities can be reimagined and large scale

ecological transformations are possible With over half of the world s population living in cities today predicted soon to reach nearly 70% urban green spaces are more crucial than ever Morris argues that Central Park is not just an artifact of the past but a model for the future Its 18 000 trees sequester nearly a million pounds of carbon dioxide annually proving that ambitious nature based solutions can improve the quality of life while addressing environmental challenges Written with urgency and optimism Ten Thousand Central Parks offers a fresh perspective on the climate crisis rejecting doom in favor of possibility We need projects on the scale of Central Park thousands of them to meet today s environmental challenges This book a boundary crossing work of narrative nonfiction is an invitation to think big act boldly and embrace radical hope
