A Converging Post-War European Discourse Thomas C.

Hoerber, 2014-12-24 This book explores the most important components and contributing factors to the European integration process during the 1950s It seeks to combine comparative politics and political history to examine core themes such as war experience national security military security economic security societal security and research and education in three major European countries i.e. France Germany and Britain It analyses the references to the ensuing European integration process in national parliamentary debates analyzing which national needs were thought European integration could cater to but also which national positions were seen as being compromised by a closer European commitment The development of a national position on European integration and in turn the evolution of European concepts are considered by using discourse theory on parliamentary debates in France Germany and Britain Parliamentary discourses are shown to be an ideal source for analyzing grand themes such as European integration because they cover all fundamental ideas they have to be public and open ended deliberations which in turn determined the position of each country towards European integration The great variety of positions reflected in the parliamentary discourse in particular those which did not prevail and which did not find their way into the commonly accepted historical storyline of European integration provide a greater comprehensiveness and a better understanding of the history of the European integration process

The Foundations of Europe Thomas

Hörber, 2007-12-18 Thomas Hörber analyses the building process of European integration He shows the parliamentary discourses of France Germany and Britain to be representative of the national position of these states towards the developing concept of Europe He covers all key events and developments of the time which had an impact on the European integration process and provides an explanation for the convergence of national discourses towards a common Europe This development was by no means a given and the analysis of parliamentary debates shows for the first time how vigorous the debates were on European integration in the 1950s and how despite setbacks notably the failure of the European Defence Community the discussion went in favour of integration
