New Era of Management Richard L. Daft, 2014 Nuclear Command and Control Norms Salma Shaheen, 2018-09-28

This book offers a new analytical framework for studying nuclear command and control C2 based on a comparative study of four nuclear weapons states NWS The subject of nuclear operations management has long been shrouded in secrecy and whilst the importance of nuclear C2 cannot be disputed there are few academic studies into how and why states develop these systems This volume includes a comparative study of the development of nuclear C2 by four different NWS Britain China India and Pakistan and demonstrates that despite several differences there is a central set of factors that remain constant The analytical framework used in this study identifies key factors that can potentially shape the evolution and stability of nuclear C2 These factors include geostrategic threat environment international norms leadership and control of nuclear operations civil military control The book also analyses the interaction among different stakeholders within the nuclear C2 enterprise It recognises that politicians the military and scientists all have key but different roles to play and the way these stakeholders have learned to co exist with each other is explored This volume offers a set of dynamics that could form a global norm for nuclear C2 serving as a standard for new entrants into the nuclear club This book will be of much interest to students of nuclear proliferation global governance and International Relations in general
