Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J. Singer, 2008-10-26 This popular text advocates an inquiry and activity-based view of social studies teaching that respects the points of view of students and teachers. Based in practice and experience, it offers systematic support and open, honest advice for new teachers. It is conversational, not pedantic, and provides lots of examples. While the structure and most of the topics remain largely the same as before, this Third Edition presents new lesson ideas in every chapter, especially designed to help new teachers address learning standards, to work in inclusive settings, and to promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms. It puts a heavier focus on what is important to know and why, includes new essays on the politics of social studies education, responds to opponents of project or activity-based social studies instruction, and multicultural education with a sharpened defense of both of these approaches throughout the book. Intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate pre-service social studies methods courses, this text is also useful for in-service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice.

The African American Theatrical Body Soyica Diggs Colbert, 2011-10-06 Presenting an innovative approach to performance studies and literary history, Soyica Colbert argues for the centrality of black performance traditions to African American literature, including preaching, dancing, blues, and gospel, and theatre itself, showing how these performance traditions create the performative ground of African American literary texts. Across a century of literary production, using the physical space of the theatre and the discursive space of the page W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston James Baldwin August Wilson and others deploy performances to re situate black people in time and space The study examines African American plays past and present including A Raisin in the Sun Blues for Mister Charlie and Joe Turner's Come and Gone demonstrating how African American dramatists stage black performances in their plays as acts of recuperation and restoration creating sites that have the potential to repair the damage caused by slavery and its aftermath
