depending on the emotional expression that accompanies the lie e.g liars who mask their emotions with another emotion blink more than truth tellers whereas liars who neutralize their facial expression blink less Taking this more recent approach into account the current examines the relationship between veracity and blinking depending on the facial expression used during lying The author s findings suggest that blinking behavior in liars compared to truth tellers increases when they mask emotion and decreases when they attempt to stay poker faced Past reviews are challenged and suggestions are made for future research
