Mass Media Functions Knowledge And Social Control:

Mass Media, Social Control and Social Change David Demers, 2007-07 Media and Social Inequality John Pollock, 2014-06-11 This book is among the first to systematically explore the impact of community inequality on reporting political and social change Although most journalism scholars are still fascinated by the impact of media on society Media and Social Inequality explores the reverse perspective the impact of society on media Using a community structure approach and rejecting the perspective that studies of media and audiences can be reduced to the individual level of psychological phenomena all contributions examine connections between community level macro characteristics and variations in the coverage of critical issues This innovative book differs from previous community structure volumes in two ways First contributions explore a far wider range of community characteristics by employing creative methodologies modern archives and databases that facilitate larger more diverse samples multilevel and longitudinal analyses composite measures of both content and editorial judgment new technologies and social network analysis Second a traditional emphasis on media as instruments of political and social control is replaced by media as potential mirrors of social change exploring bottom up measures of vulnerability concentrated disadvantage and ethnic diversity pluralism The volume contains two original chapters one on nationwide US coverage of the Occupy movement in the expanded introduction and another on nationwide US coverage of universal health care This book was originally published as a special issue of Mass Communication and Society

Makers of the Media Mind William David Sloan, 1990 First Published in 1990 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Makers of the Media Mind Wm. David Sloan, 2014-07-10 Makers of the Media Mind is a collection of analytical essays focusing on the most important and original ideas contributed to the field of mass communication by journalism educators Divided into six sections representing the most prominent areas of specialization in the field this text serves two significant purposes first it acquaints readers with the lives of preeminent journalism educators second it provides concise discussions and evaluations of the most compelling ideas those educators have to offer The editor of and contributors to this text contend that ideas cannot be appreciated fully without an understanding of the creators of those same ideas They hope that this volume s coverage of creators as well as concepts will demonstrate that journalism education has played a critical role in the making of the media mind

Burleson, 2012-03-22 The Communication Yearbook annuals publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Sponsored by the International Communication Association each volume provides a forum for the exchange of interdisciplinary and internationally diverse scholarship relating to communication in its many forms This volume re issues the yearbook from 1996 Mass Media Saturation Conditions and Information Gaps in Venezuela Fausto Izcaray, 1980 Mass Media and Social Conflict Ali A. Al-Karni, 1987 Research on the Communication Effects and Mass Media Credibility in China Guoming Yu, 2022-10-29 This book establishes a measurement index to quantify China s mass media public credibility based on extensive research and the encapsulation of measurement theories and approaches related to media public credibility as well as numerous empirical case studies from the international academic community over the past hundred years The investigation into the current state of Chinese mass media public credibility and discussion on practical approaches to enhancing such public credibility is highly significant in the context of research on media public credibility The book focuses on two fundamental issues i investigating the basic factors the Chinese audience values as the yardstick for media credibility and ii formulating a media public credibility measurement scale Relying on data from investigations the authors analyze the importance of various assessment benchmarks for measuring media public credibility and the characteristics of public credibility assessment Lastly a measurement scale is created by screening and analyzing measurement indices with statistical methods such as exploratory and authenticated factor analyses and credibility and validity testing which is of high theoretical and practical scientific value A Meta-research of Mass Media Effects on Audiences in Developing Countries from 1958 Through 1986 Jo Ellen Fair, 1988 The Menace of the Corporate Newspaper David Demers, 1996 This text studies the origins and effects of the corporate form of newspaper organisation It explores the controversies surrounding corporate ownership through a review of the literature as well as by means of empirical research Mass Media and Environmental Affairs; a Case Study in Santos, Brazil Carlos Eduardo Lins da Silva, 1976 History and Future of Mass Media David Demers, 2007 This book argues that the no Marxists mostly have it wrong Although corporate media are structurally organized to maximize profits and produce content that generally helps elites achieve their goals this does not mean corporate media have less capacity to facilitate social change than entrepreneurial or other forms of media In fact historical evidence and comparative critical studies presented in this book show that mass media become more not less critical of dominant power groups institutions and value systems as they become more corporatized This proposition is part of a larger theoretical model that integrates the role of both social structure and human agency in explaining the persistence of modern capitalism The structural part of the theory also enables scholars to make predictions about the future of mass media including the ideas that the Internet is stealing some of the mediating power of traditional mass media and the market power of global media will grow in absolute terms but will shrink in relative terms because of increasing competition from new and traditional media

The Role of the Mass Media in American Society Douglas Malcolm McLeod, 1989 Structural Pluralism, Competition and the Growth of the Corporate Newspaper in the United States David Demers, 1992 Community Conflict and the Press Phillip J. Tichenor, George A. Donohue, Clarice N. Olien, 1980 JQ. Journalism Quarterly, 1994 Includes section Book reviews and other bibliographical material Communicating Nature Julia B. Corbett, 2006-11-06 A broader and more comprehensive understanding of how we communicate with each other about the natural world and our relationship to it is essential to solving environmental problems How do individuals develop beliefs and ideologies about the environment How do we express those beliefs through communication How are we influenced by the messages of pop culture and social institutions And how does all this communication become part of the larger social fabric of what we know as the environment Communicating Nature explores and explains the multiple levels of everyday communication that come together to form our perceptions of the natural world Author Julia Corbett considers all levels of communication from communication at the individual level to environmental messages transmitted by popular culture to communication generated by social institutions including political and regulatory agencies business and corporations media outlets and educational organizations The book offers a fresh and engaging introductory look at a topic of broad interest and is an important work for students of the environment activists and environmental professionals interested in understanding the cultural context of human nature interactions The New Jersey Journal of Communication, 1997 Beyond Agenda Setting Oscar H. Gandy, 1982 This volume describes the use of mass media and other communication channels by corporations bureaucrats politicians and consumer advocates to influence the development and implementation of public policy in areas of science technology and social service delivery It provides answers to the critical question who sets the media agenda how and for what purposes This book is the first to reveal the degree of inequality that exists between participants in any policy debate
