

A futuristic illustration of a brain as a glowing network of nodes and lines, surrounded by books, a tablet, and circuitry. The brain is the central focus, rendered in a vibrant blue and purple color scheme. It is composed of a complex web of interconnected nodes and lines, giving it a digital, neural network appearance. The background is dark, with glowing circuitry and data lines. To the left, there are two books, one above the other, with a glowing red and blue spine. To the right, there is a tablet or screen displaying a list of items. At the bottom, there is a glowing, curved shape that resembles a book or a piece of paper. The overall aesthetic is high-tech and digital.
