

P8-7. Coefficient of variation: $CV = \frac{\sigma}{r}$

LG 2; Basic

- a. A $CV_A = \frac{7\%}{20\%} = 0.3500$
B $CV_B = \frac{9.5\%}{22\%} = 0.4318$
C $CV_C = \frac{6\%}{19\%} = 0.3158$
D $CV_D = \frac{5.5\%}{16\%} = 0.3438$
- b. Asset C has the lowest coefficient of variation and is the least risky relative to the other choices.

P8-8. Standard deviation versus coefficient of variation as measures of risk

LG 2; Basic

- a. Project A is least risky based on range with a value of 0.04.
- b. The standard deviation measure fails to take into account both the volatility and the return of the investment. Investors would prefer higher return but less volatility, and the coefficient of variation provides a measure that takes into account both aspects of investors' preferences. Project D has the lowest CV, so it is the least risky investment relative to the return provided.
- c. A $CV_A = \frac{0.029}{0.12} = 0.2417$
B $CV_B = \frac{0.032}{0.125} = 0.2560$
C $CV_C = \frac{0.035}{0.13} = 0.2692$
D $CV_D = \frac{0.030}{0.128} = 0.2344$

In this case Project D is the best alternative since it provides the least amount of risk for each percent of return earned. Coefficient of variation is probably the best measure in this instance since it provides a standardized method of measuring the risk-return tradeoff for investments with differing returns.

The Dirac Equation and its Solutions Vladislav G. Bagrov, Dmitry Gitman, 2014-08-20 The Dirac equation is of fundamental importance for relativistic quantum mechanics and quantum electrodynamics In relativistic quantum mechanics the Dirac equation is referred to as one particle wave equation of motion for electron in an external electromagnetic field In quantum electrodynamics exact solutions of this equation are needed to treat the interaction between the electron and the external field exactly In this monograph all propagators of a particle i e the various Green s functions are constructed in a certain way by using exact solutions of the Dirac equation

Quantum Electrodynamics Efim Samoïlovich Fradkin, D. M. Gitman, Shmari[u] Mordkovich Shvart[s]man, 1991 This book contains a systematic analysis of the formalisms of quantum electro dynamics in the presence of an intense external field able to create pairs from the vacuum and thereby violate the stability of the latter The approach developed is not specific to quantum electrodynamics and can equally well be applied to any quantum field theory with an unstable vacuum It should be noted that only macroscopic external fields are considered whereas problems associated with the superstrong Coulomb micro field are not treated As a rule the discussion is confined to those details of the formalism and calculations that are specific to the instability property For instance renormalization is not discussed here since in practical calculations it is carried out according to standard methods The presentation is based mainly on original research undertaken by the authors Chapter 1 contains a general introduction to the problem It also presents some standard information on quantum electrodynamics which will be used later in the text In addition an interpretation of the concept of an external field is given and the problems that arise when one tries to keep the interaction with the external field exactly are discussed In Chapter 2 the perturbation expansion in powers of the radiative interaction is developed for the matrix elements of transition processes taking the arbitrary external field into account exactly
