Abschied Von Den Eltern

Peter Weiss, Peter Roos

Abschied Von Den Eltern:

Abschied von den Eltern Peter Weiss, 2007 A fictional account based on the life of the author and his attempt to break free of a repressive upper middle class upbringing and make his way as an artist and individual written in a single incantatory paragraph This is the story of an upper middle class childhood and adolescence in Berlin between the wars In the course of the book Weiss plumbs the depths of family life there is the early death of his beloved sister Margit the difficult relationship with his parents the fantasies of adolescence and youth all set in the midst of an increasing anti-Semitism which forces the Weiss family to move again and again a peripatetic existence that only intensifies the narrator's growing restlessness The young narrator is largely oblivious to world events and focused instead on becoming an artist an ambition frustrated generally by his milieu and specifically by his mother who herself a former actress destroys his paintings during one of the family's moves In the end he turns to an older mentor Harry Haller a fictionalized portrait of Hermann Hesse who encouraged and supported Weiss and with Haller's example before him the narrator takes his first steps towards a truly independent life Intensely lyrical written with great imaginative power this story is a vivid evocation of a world that has disappeared and of the narrator's developing consciousness Goodreads

Words from Abroad Katja Garloff,2005-09-01 Examines the responses of German Jewish writers to the geographical and cultural displacement that is one of the lasting consequences of the Holocaust When Paul Celan was charged with plagiarism in 1960 the ensuing public debate in West Germany threw the poet into a major personal crisis even though most German critics immediately came to his defense This crisis coincided with a transformative moment in the history of Holocaust remembrance its first generational reimagining in the wake of a number of highly publicized criminal trials Words from Abroad takes its lead from this disjunction between public ritual and private crisis to chart the emergence of a new literary diaspora examining German Jewish writers who were dislocated in the course of World War II and began rewriting their own displacement more than a decade after the war The idea of diaspora had ceased to be a constructive element of Jewish culture in Germany during the nineteenth century process of emancipation and assimilation though this book argues that it becomes crucial in articulating the possibility of German Jewish identity after the Holocaust Along with the works of Paul Celan Words from Abroad examines selected German Jewish writers such as Peter Weiss and Nelly Sachs The study of these authors is framed by theoretical reflections on the play of distance and proximity in German Jewish intellectuals after the Holocaust including Theodor W Adorno Jean Amry and Gnter Anders Drawing on postcolonial theory diaspora studies trauma theory and psychoanalytical theory author Katja Garloff offers an original and nuanced reading of the way in which these writers in the wake of the Holocaust experienced and variously created a vision of dispersion as both traumatic and productive Words from Abroad is an important tool in investigating the works of these German Jewish writers and thinkers but it is also a contribution to the interdisciplinary scholarship on trauma and displacement itself
