

Adapting Activities & Materials for Young Children with Disabilities

The ideas in this handout are provided as examples of only some of the potential adaptations that can be made to common materials and activities to insure that young children with disabilities can be included. The handout is organized by the learning centers or activities that are typical in early childhood programs. Not all the ideas listed in each learning center area are necessary or even helpful for all children with disabilities. It is important for you, the teacher of young children, to choose the adaptation that meets that need of the child, not the disability label. A variety of adaptations are provided so that you can have several ideas always ready to try when an adaptation is needed. The list of ideas is not meant to be exhaustive, so space has been provided for you to add your own favorite adaptation!
