Thinking Critically through Digital Media Nik Peachey, Although the use of internet and digital materials in the language classroom has come a long way over the last 25 years still the vast majority of web based material that finds its way into the language classroom is used for information input or comprehension purposes The students interaction with the materials is as such largely passive with the teacher controlling the suitability of the materials selected and deciding what information the students will extract from it In Thinking Critically through Digital Media I have tried to build on this model but develop it and take it to deeper and more critical levels of analysis that go beyond the superficial linguistic level and help to develop students not only as English language speakers but as capable information literate participants in the global knowledge economy The book uses as its basis the development of key digital literacies These include the ability to understand visually presented data the ability collect and analyse data using a range of techniques and survey tools and the ability to create and deliver a range of presentation types using digital media tools Whilst developing these digital literacies students are also encouraged to assess the validity credibility and underlying bias of the information they study and are given a range of research tools and techniques for reassessing the information and evaluating how it fits within their personal framework of belief systems and values The book itself has four main chapters The first three chapters contain a range of activities that teachers can use with students to develop their abilities to understand and create infographics develop research polls and surveys and create and deliver presentations These activities give students hands on exposure to a range of recommended tools and develop students as active creators of information whilst developing their abilities to work collaboratively in digital online environments The fourth key chapter of the book is a collection of lesson plans that teachers can use to take students through a complete process from accessing their existing knowledge about a topic understanding new input examining how the information fits into their existing value scheme checking the credibility and validity of the information carrying out their own parallel research through social media to finally sharing and reevaluating what they have learned You can see an example of the classroom materials here https://bit.ly/intro\_extro\_demo I believe that the skills and abilities teachers can help students develop through the use of these materials are ones that are sadly lacking not only in the English language classroom but also in the general education of many students around the world Through the use of these materials I hope teachers can develop more actively and intellectually critical students who approach digital media with the ability not only to comprehend and consume information but also understand the possible bias motivation and underlying values of those creating the information I believe these skills and abilities are key to creating a more tolerant open minded and critically aware global society

How and Why to Read and Create Children's Digital Books Natalia Kucirkova, 2018-12-03. How and Why to Read and Create Children's Digital Books outlines effective ways of using digital books in early years and primary classrooms and specifies the educational potential of using digital books and apps in physical spaces and virtual communities. With a particular focus on apps and personalised reading, Natalia Kucirkova combines theory and practice to argue that personalised reading is only truly personalised when it is created or co-created by reading communities. Divided into two parts, Part I suggests criteria to evaluate the educational quality of digital books and practical strategies for their use in the classroom. Specific attention is paid to the ways in which digital books can support individual children's strengths and difficulties, digital literacies, language and communication skills. Part II explores digital books created by children, their caregivers, teachers, and librarians, and Kucirkova also offers insights into how smart toys, tangibles, and augmented virtual reality tools can enrich children's reading for pleasure. How and Why to Read and Create Children's Digital Books is of interest to an international readership ranging from trainee or established teachers to MA level students and researchers, as well as designers, librarians, and publishers. All are inspired to approach children's reading on and with screens with an agentic perspective of creating and sharing. Praise for How and Why to Read and Create Children's Digital Books. This is an exciting and innovative book, not least because it is freely available to read online, but because its origins are in primary practice. The author is an accomplished storyteller, and whether you know as yet little about the value of digital literacy in the storymaking process or you are an accomplished digital player this book is full of evidence informed ideas explanations and inspiration Liz Chamberlain Open University At a time when children s reading is increasingly on screen many teachers parents and carers are seeking practical straightforward guidance on how to support children s engagement with digital books This volume written by the leading expert on personalised e books is packed with app reviews suggestions and insights from recent international research all underpinned by careful analysis of digital book features and recognition of reading as a social and cultural practice Providing accessible guidance on finding choosing sharing and creating digital books it will be welcomed by those excited by the possibilities of enthusing children about reading in the digital age Cathy Burnett Professor of Literacy and Education Sheffield Hallam University

Slavica Šimić Šašić,Orna Heaysman ,Barbara Otto,2025-11-25 In recent years scientific research work and literature have paid great attention to the ability of students to self regulate their learning Numerous theories and models of self regulated learning have been developed Boekaerts 2011 Butler and Cartier 2018 Efklides 2011 Hadwin J rvel and Miller 2017 Pintrich 2000 Winne and Hadwin 1998 Zimmmerman 2000 The authors agree that self regulated learning is a cyclical multidimensional process that includes the interaction of personal cognitive metacognitive motivational emotional behavioral and environmental factors Panadero 2017 which enable students to better manage their learning The ability to self regulate learning contributes to positive educational outcomes but also to the development of lifelong learning skills which facilitate coping with the demands of modern society However the learning of a significant part of students is not optimally self regulated Kramarski and Michalsky 2009 Teachers as agents of self regulated learning SRL can promote SRL in a variety of direct and indirect ways by teaching students effective learning strategies or by structuring stimulating learning environments Dignath van Ewijk and van der Werf 2012 Most teachers agree that students need help to become self regulated learners and express positive beliefs about SRL However they feel uncertain about how to promote students SRL and stimulate SRL to a limited extent Dignath and B ttner 2018 Dignath van Ewijk et al 2012 Karlen et al 2020 Kistner et al 2015 Perry et al 2008 Spruce and Bol 2015 imi a i et al 2023 Vandeveldde et al 2012 Teaching students how to self regulate their learning improves their performance However it is still not clear which specific learning strategies should be taught and how they should be taught in order to improve student performance Research shows that different strategies are effective in different disciplines reading writing mathematics science de Boer et al 2012 Encouraging SRL depends on numerous factors related to the teacher teacher beliefs gender teaching experience competences etc class school subject but also the students themselves abilities age SES etc Chatzistamatiou et al 2013 De Smul et al 2018 Dignath van Ewijk 2016 Dignath van Ewijk and van der Wert 2012 Elmas et al 2011 Fauzi and Widjajanti 2018 Hargreaves 2005 Karlen et al 2023 Lombaerts et al 2007 Lombaerts et al 2009 Moos and Ringdal 2012 Peeters et al 2015 imi a i et al 2021 imi a i et al 2023 Vandeveldde et al 2012 Yan 2018 The results of these studies are often inconclusive Therefore the goal of this Research Topic is to gather new knowledge about the factors that influence the activation of SRL from the perspective of teachers students classes schools and even from the perspective of educational policies of different educational systems countries Of particular interest is to examine the effects of different strategies for improving SRL considering different characteristics of students fields disciplines and level of education early childhood primary secondary or higher education and to examine the mechanisms of these effects It is necessary to investigate how students and teachers perceive the effectiveness of different methods of encouraging SRL Most studies of teachers promotion of SRL were conducted on preservice teachers as part of the evaluation of teacher training programs for the promotion of SRL but there is little research in the area of in service teachers practice to promote SRL Therefore this Research Topic aims to offer a synthesis of the latest research on fostering SRL and to collect original contributions that can offer new insights and incentives for future research This collection of articles welcomes both theoretical and empirical qualitative and or quantitative papers that contribute to the consolidation of current knowledge highlight limitations and critical issues of current research or offer new ideas and thinking to support future research Original empirical research from different parts of the world including validation of instruments in cultures where they have not yet been tested is welcome and cross cultural comparisons are especially appreciated We also welcome review papers systematic reviews and meta analyses that have a significant impact on understanding the relationship between fostering self regulated learning and self regulation of learning and the relationship with learning outcomes Papers within this research topic should offer a synthesis of the latest knowledge in this research area and stimulate future research
