a powerful collection of nonfiction by the New York Times bestselling author of novels including The Corrections, Freedom and Crossroads. While the essays range in subject matter from the sex advice industry to the way a supermax prison works, each one wrestles with the essential themes of Jonathan Franzen's writing: the erosion of civil life and private dignity and the hidden persistence of loneliness in postmodern imperial America. Franzen focuses on the growing commercialism and alienation. Presenting a number of variations on that theme, he addresses such personal topics as his smoking habit, an interview for the Oprah show, and his father's battle with Alzheimer's, a poignant account of the disease's impact on his family. In addition, pieces on the shortcomings of the Chicago post office, the supermax prison in Colorado, and the isolating effects of an increasingly computerized society show Franzen's skill as a journalist and social critic. Also included is Why Bother, a revision of his 1996 critique of the American novel, penetrating yet entertaining social commentary. Library Journal, Intelligent, thoughtful and provocative pieces. Publishers Weekly. Although Franzen calls them essays, many of these pieces are reportage. He's good at it. He goes out on many a limb as essayists should and gives us a good many things to think about, such as the blurring line between private and public behavior in the age of the 24-hour news cycle. Minneapolis Star Tribune. The Influence of the 9/11 novel on Muslim Writing. Matthias Dickert, 2017-10-11. Scientific Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works. Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz. language English. abstract. Since 9/11, many Muslims struggle with their identity and are exposed to xenophobia, violence, vicious defamation, harassment, or displacement. In short, the notion of Muslim in relation to that day has become a stigma. It is against this background and the post-traumatic aftermath of September 11, 2001, where many novelists, disposing of a Muslim background, wrote their novels. The logical consequence from this was that Muslim writing, as such, has become more complex, stressing the standpoints of hearer and teller as elements of distortion. Interesting though is the fact that some novels dealing with Islam and Muslim characters have taken up and used the Oriental stereotypes where Muslims are, according to Said, seen as either oil suppliers or potential terrorists. For a long time, Muslim characters in literature have been connected to this negative image, which Said also labels as other and Spivak as subaltern. The hybrid in which many Muslim characters are often set is also still equated with the exotic, thus ignoring the energy of Bhabha's term and its positive realizations in fiction. It is therefore one aim of this essay to throw light on this matter and to shortly reflect the present influence of 9/11 on Muslim writing.
