

UNIT 1: WHAT IS HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT?

Human Resource management past and present

- HRM was called personnel administration or personnel management
 - Because it was mainly concerned with administrative tasks of managing an organisation
 - Record keeping and dealing with employee wages, salaries and benefits
- 1. Scientific management
 - 100 years ago, people working in manufacturing industry
 - Worked long hours in dirty factories with no fresh air
 - Production played an important during that time
 - Employees were watched by supervisors
 - Employees were told they would lose their jobs if they did not produce a certain amount of goods in the time allowed
 - The scientific approach – is a way of studying jobs to see how much can be done in a certain time
 - It was used to find out how workers could be productive and efficient
 - Time and motion process
 - All employees earned the same weekly wage, even if they did different jobs and produced more products
 - The piece-rate system was introduced to encourage workers to work harder
 - Workers were paid according to the amount they produced and received more money for every product they produced above the performance standard
 - Problems with the scientific approach:
 - Workers were treated as people who were only interested in money
 - Work methods were concerned only with what workers could produce
 - It did not focus on workers and their job satisfaction
 - Workers were kept to a routine and were not encourage to use their minds government and the private sector may put up wonderful institutions with the best infrastructural facilities equipment and qualified teachers but all these would only address part of the problem of achieving success in learning Both the teaching and non teaching staffs need to be treated fairly in order to achieve academic excellence This means until the human needs of all those engaged at school are addressed facilities alone cannot offer the match craved for performance At school level the government parents and society look upon the head teachers to provide that much needed coordination and conducive environment for teachers learners and support staff to achieve the desired targets The foregoing puts a lot of pressure and high levels of expectation on the shoulders of heads of institutions HOIs to methodically deploy the human resources at hand to achieve the set targets Woe unto the head teachers with their administration teams who do not deploy their human relations and soft skills positively to build a strong team and win the confidence of such a team
