Self-Management of Young People with Chronic Conditions Jane N. T. Sattoe, AnneLoes van Staa, Sander R. Hilberink, 2021-01-28 This book focuses on young people 12-25 years old growing up with a chronic somatic condition and/or physical disability facing different challenges during their transition to adulthood and to adult healthcare services Becoming an adult often proves extra challenging for them because the adaptive tasks related to living with a chronic condition can clash with developmental milestones Finding a good balance and integrating these tasks in daily life is also referred to as self-management This book addresses self-management and empowerment of young people with chronic conditions as well as the Positive Youth Development concept It elaborates on theories and approaches and offers a complete overview of self-management interventions for young people with chronic conditions emphasizing on the tasks of medical emotion and role management It also elaborates on the roles and tasks of professionals as well as the patient-provider relationship the shifting roles between young people and their parents and the role of peer support This book is unique in its broad view on self-management i.e. it goes beyond medical management and focuses on young people achieving their maximum potential and a good quality of life Furthermore the book employs a positive youth development approach focusing on empowerment and growth rather than problems or issues It offers an overview of the state of the art and evidence concerning self-management support for young people with various chronic conditions As such it is of benefit for all healthcare professionals working in care for young people but also for researchers interested in this topic

Education 2.0 Linda Herrera,2025-11-17
Education 2.0 offers a compelling portrait of Egypt's bold attempt to overhaul its public education system amid sweeping political and technological transformation Drawing on extensive oral history interviews this book traces the launch and rollout of the New Education System initiated by the Ministry of Education in 2018 designed to modernize curriculum pedagogy and assessment in the digital age and change the culture of learning The volume moves fluidly from macro level state planning to the lived experiences of teachers and students exploring the promises and pitfalls of top down reform Conducted partly during the COVID 19 pandemic the research captures Egypt's first large scale experiment with hybrid and distance learning Interviews with key actors from policymakers and tech developers to students and educators reveal competing visions unintended consequences and the challenges of culturally transforming education systems in a middle income country where private tutoring is rife the sector is chronically under resourced and politics overshadows policy This book is essential reading for scholars practitioners and policymakers interested in education reform digital transformation and the role of the state in shaping learning futures in the Global South It is also an excellent case study for courses in Middle East studies and comparative and international education

PISA 2012 Assessment and Analytical Framework Mathematics, Reading, Science, Problem Solving and Financial Literacy OECD,2013-02-11 This book presents the conceptual framework underlying the fifth cycle of PISA which covers reading science and this year's focus mathematical literacy along with problem solving and financial literacy
