

Stanza I (Lines 1-11)

Lines 1-2

In Xanadu did Kubla Khan

A stately pleasure dome decree:

- Here's the famous opener.
- This line gets a lot of work done quickly. It introduces us to the title character (Kubla Khan), and begins to describe the amazing setting of the poem (Xanadu).
- That "stately pleasure dome decree" means that he had a really fancy and beautiful palace built.
- We want you to know right away that Coleridge is actually talking about a real place and a real guy.
- Kubla Khan was the grandson of the legendary Mongol conqueror Genghis Khan, and he built a summer palace (called Xanadu, in English) in Mongolia.
- Marco Polo visited Xanadu, and helped to start the legend of its magnificence.
- We're starting with actual history here, although by Coleridge's time Xanadu is already a bit of a legend.
- Keep this little historical nugget in mind, as you read. Does this feel like a real place and a real person? Or does it seem completely imaginary? Maybe a little of both?

Lines 3-5

Where Alph, the sacred river, ran

Through caverns measureless to man

Down to a sunless sea

- The speaker begins to describe the geography of Xanadu. He starts by introducing us to the River Alph.
- There's certainly no river in Mongolia by this name. Some scholars think that this is an allusion to the river Alpheus, a river in Greece that was made famous in classical literature.
- The name "Alph" might also make us think of the Greek letter "Alpha" which is the first letter of the Greek alphabet, and a symbol of beginnings.
- These associations, and the fact that the river has a name at all, really make the Alph stand out in the beginning of this poem.
- Notice how Coleridge is already stepping away from history: he is transforming this place, this person, and this story into his own creation.
