Paul Rooney

Long Walk To Water Two Voice Poem:

Ecstasy Within Discipline John B. Hougen, 1995 Ecstasy Within Discipline is a study of the theological and spiritual dimensions of Richard Wilbur's poetry. First it places Wilbur in the context of a generation of American writers who were searching for poetic ways to acknowledge the power of life's non-rational dimensions including the spiritual. Then it traces the several strategies found repeatedly in Wilbur's poems by which the poet leads his readers toward significant theological insights and spiritual encounters. Finally, Wilbur's understanding of the relationship of spirit and the material world is compared with that of Emerson, Dickinson, Frost, Merton, and the Christian scriptures. Richard Wilbur proves to be a writer whose immense skill at his craft is matched by the profundity of his exploration of the human spirit and the transcendence for which it hungers. This is the first book-length study of Wilbur's poetry to focus on its theological and spiritual import. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. This publication has grown out of the exhibition Know Your Place, 18 September - 4 December 2004, at firstsite, Rooney's first major exhibition in the South East, which united his largest body of work to date. The book marks a pivotal career moment, finding Rooney attracting significant national and international acclaim that takes him from his home city of Liverpool to Cuba, Germany, and Australia. This geographic shift from a local to a global context is reflected in the content, aspiration, and feel of his work. Recent pieces move away from re-presenting everyday stories from his own life or the lives of Liverpoolians to more poetic films reflecting serious historical and political situations. Peterson's Magazine, 1873. Christian Standard, 1907. National Stockman and Farmer, 1913. The Spectator, 1896. The Illustrated London News, 1874. Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress.
