Concepts and Case Analysis in the Law of Contracts Marvin A. Chirelstein, 1990 Ceasefire Agreements and Peace Processes Malin Akebo, 2016-11-10 This book analyses and compares ceasefire agreements as part of peace processes in intrastate armed conflicts Research repeatedly underscores the importance of ceasefire agreements in peace processes but suggests that they can influence such processes in fundamentally different ways However despite contradictory expectations remarkably few studies have so far been devoted to systematic and in depth analysis of ceasefire agreements in contemporary intrastate armed conflicts This book contributes to filling this gap by using a process oriented conflict dynamics approach to analyse and explain how ceasefire agreements are being influenced by and in turn influences the broader dynamics of peace processes Empirically the book focuses on the armed conflicts in Aceh Indonesia and Sri Lanka Based on document studies and 57 interviews with key actors it presents comparative insights and in depth knowledge about ceasefire agreements in different contextual settings The book problematizes the common assumption in the literature that ceasefire agreements create momentum in peace processes and pave the way to peace and it provides a more nuanced analysis and understanding based on two empirical cases analysed within a comparative framework In contrast to conventional wisdom it demonstrates how ceasefires on the contrary also can have negative implications on peace processes This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies intra state conflict security studies and IR in general

Transportation Research Department, 1968 EU-NATO Relations Simon J. Smith, Carmen Gebhard, Nina Graeger, 2020-04-28 For almost fifteen years both the EU and North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO have claimed to partake in a relationship that is purported to be a Strategic Partnership albeit one that is troubled by lasting political blockages The constraints that affect the formal relationship between the two organizations are well covered terrain in the academic literature including by most of the contributors to this volume however the popular argument that the EU and NATO simply do not cooperate in any substantive way warrants deeper investigation both theoretically and thematically Thus EU NATO relations might not at first seem like an under researched area but much of the existing literature on the issue re engages oversimplified and formulaic statements about the nature quality and practice of interactions between the EU and NATO This volume aims to develop the EU NATO research agenda by pursuing three key objectives 1 reduce the lacuna of theoretically informed analyses of the relationship 2 add empirically and analytically rigorous case studies to the relevant body of literature and 3 point to possible developments and solutions in the Strategic Partnership The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue in European Security Case Studies in Interpersonal Communication Dawn O. Braithwaite, Julia T. Wood, 2000 The many narrative cases in this book offer dramatic real life snapshots of interpersonal theory in action Written by established communication scholars and reflecting carefully conducted research each case helps you apply abstract principles to specific situations people and relationships As you read these cases you ll also learn to appreciate how multiple communication dynamics work together to shape what happens in human interactions for example how a case focusing on self disclosure also gives you insights into such issues as timing context and style of communication And as you identify patterns revealed in the cases you ll develop the ability to detect these patterns in your own interactions and ultimately make more informed choices about which patterns to foster and avoid in your interpersonal relationships
