Gender, Race, and Class in Media Bill Yousman, Lori Bindig Yousman, Gail Dines, Jean McMahon Humez, 2020-07-24
Gender Race and Class in Media provides students a comprehensive and critical introduction to media studies by encouraging them to analyze their own media experiences and interests. The book explores some of the most important forms of today's popular culture including the Internet, social media, television, films, music, and advertising in three distinct but related areas of investigation: the political economy of production, textual analysis, and audience response. Multidisciplinary issues of power related to gender, race, and class are integrated into a wide range of articles examining the economic and cultural implications of mass media as institutions. Reflecting the rapid evolution of the field, the Sixth Edition includes 18 new readings that enhance the richness, sophistication, and diversity that characterizes contemporary media scholarship. Included with this title: The password-protected Instructor Resource Site, formally known as SAGE Edge, offers access to all text-specific resources including a test bank and editable chapter-specific PowerPoint slides. This 5th edition of the popular textbook considers diversity in the mass media in three main settings: Audiences, Content, and Production. The book brings together 55 readings, the majority newly commissioned for this edition by scholars representing a variety of humanities and social science disciplines. Together these readings provide a multifaceted and intersectional look at how race, gender, and class relate to the creation and use of media texts, as well as the media texts themselves. Designed to be flexible for use in the classroom, the book begins with a detailed introduction to key concepts and presents a contextualizing introduction to each of the three main sections. Each reading contains multiple "It's Your Turn" activities to foster student engagement and which can serve as the basis for assignments. The book also offers a list of resources, books, articles, films, and websites that are of value to students and instructors. This volume is an essential introduction to interdisciplinary studies of race, gender, and class across mass media. Routledge
