NASA Contractor Report ,1973 Chris Guillebeau's the $100 Startup Ant Hive Media,2016-06-02 This is a Summary of Chris Guillebeau's Chris Guillebeau's The 100 Startup Reinvent the Way You Make a Living Do What You Love and Create a New Future Learn how to lead a life of adventure meaning and purpose and earn a good living Still in his early thirties Chris is on the verge of completing a tour of every country on earth he's already visited more than 175 nations and yet he's never held a real job or earned a regular paycheck Rather he has a special genius for turning ideas into income and he uses what he earns both to support his life of adventure and to give back There are many others like Chris those who've found ways to opt out of traditional employment and create the time and income to pursue what they find meaningful Sometimes achieving that perfect blend of passion and income doesn't depend on shelving what you currently do. You can start small with your venture committing little time or money and wait to take the real plunge when you're sure it's successful. In preparing to write this book, Chris identified 1,500 individuals who have built businesses earning 50,000 or more from a modest investment in many cases 100 or less and from that group he's chosen to focus on the 50 most intriguing case studies. In nearly all cases, people with no special skills discovered aspects of their personal passions that could be monetized and were able to restructure their lives in ways that gave them greater freedom and fulfillment. Here, finally distilled into one easy-to-use guide, are the most valuable lessons from those who've learned how to turn what they do into a gateway to self-fulfillment. It's all about finding the intersection between your expertise even if you don't consider it such and what other people will pay for. You don't need an MBA, a business plan, or even employees. All you need is a product or service that springs from what you love to do, anyway, people willing to pay, and a way to get paid. Not content to talk in generalities, Chris tells you exactly how many dollars his group of unexpected entrepreneurs required to get their projects up and running, what these individuals did in the first weeks and months to generate significant cash, some of the key mistakes they made along the way, and the crucial insights that made the business stick. Among Chris's key principles: if you're good at one thing, you're probably good at something else; never teach a man to fish; sell him the fish instead; and in the battle between planning and action, action wins. In ancient times, people who were dissatisfied with their lives dreamed of finding magic lamps, buried treasure, or streets paved with gold. Today, we know that it's up to us to change our lives. And the best part is if we change our own life, we can help others change theirs. This remarkable book will start you on your way. Available in a variety of formats, this summary is aimed for those who want to capture the gist of the book but don't have the current time to devour all 304 pages. You get the main summary along with all of the benefits and lessons the actual book has to offer. This is a summary that is not intended to be used without reference to the original book.

Design, Manufacture, and Test of Coolant Pump-motor Assembly for Brayton Power Conversion System Louis E. Gebacz, 1973. The design, development, fabrication, and testing of seven coolant circulating pump motor assemblies are discussed. The pump motor assembly is driven by the nominal 44.4 volt 400 Hz 3 phase output of a nominal 56 volt dc input inverter. The pump motor assembly will be used to circulate Dow Corning 200 liquid coolant for use in a Brayton cycle space power system. The pump motor assembly develops a nominal head of 70 psi at 3.7 gpm with an overall efficiency of 26 percent. The design, description, drawings, photographs, reliability results, and developmental and acceptance test results are included.
