Economic concepts and techniques presented through a series of big questions models that show how to pose a questions rigorously and work toward an answer This book helps readers master economic concepts and techniques by tackling fundamental economic and political questions through a series of models It is organized around a sequence of big questions among them When do markets help translate individuals uncoordinated selfish actions into outcomes that are best for all Do markets change people and if so for worse or better Translated into the language of modern economics do Marx s ideas have merit Why is there so much income inequality Or is there too little The arguments are in the theorem proof format distinguishing results derived in the context of fully specified models from educated speculation Readers will learn how to pose a question rigorously and how to work toward an answer and to appreciate that even especially the broadest and most ambitious questions call for a model The goal of the book is not to indoctrinate but to show readers how to reason toward their own conclusions The first chapter on the Walrasian model of general equilibrium serves as the prerequisite for the rest of the book The remaining chapters cover less conventional topics including the morality of markets matching theory Marxism socialism and the resilience of markets a formalization of Kant s categorical imperative unintended consequences of policy design and theories of justice The book can be used as a textbook for advanced undergraduate or graduate students or as a resource for researchers in disciplines that draw on normative economics CFA Program Curriculum 2018 Level I CFA Institute, 2017-08-01 Clear concise instruction for all CFA Level I concepts and competencies for the 2018 exam The same official curricula that CFA Program candidates receive with program registration is now publicly available for purchase CFA Program Curriculum 2018 Level I Volumes 1 6 provides the complete Level I Curriculum for the 2018 exam delivering the Candidate Body of Knowledge CBOK with expert instruction on all 10 topic areas of the CFA Program Fundamental concepts are explained in depth with a heavily visual style while cases and examples demonstrate how concepts apply in real world scenarios Coverage includes ethical and professional standards quantitative analysis economics financial reporting and analysis corporate finance equities fixed income derivatives alternative investments and portfolio management all organized into individual sessions with clearly defined Learning Outcome Statements Charts graphs figures diagrams and financial statements illustrate concepts to facilitate retention and practice questions provide the opportunity to gauge your understanding while reinforcing important concepts Learning Outcome Statement checklists guide readers to important concepts to derive from the readings Embedded case studies and examples throughout demonstrate practical application of concepts Figures diagrams and additional commentary make difficult concepts accessible Practice problems support learning and retention CFA Institute promotes the highest standards of ethics education and professional excellence among investment professionals The CFA Program Curriculum guides you through the breadth of knowledge required to uphold these standards The three levels of the program build on each other Level I provides foundational knowledge and teaches the use of investment tools Level II focuses on application of concepts and analysis particularly in the valuation of assets and Level III builds toward synthesis across topics with an emphasis on portfolio management

Economics of Higher Education Robert K. Toutkoushian, Michael B. Paulsen, 2016-03-18 This book examines the many ways in which economic concepts theories and models can be used to examine issues in higher education The topics explored in the book include how students make college going decisions the payoffs to students and society from going to college markets for higher education services demand and supply in markets for higher education why and how state and federal governments intervene in higher education markets college and university revenues and expenditures how institutions use net pricing strategies and non price product differentiation strategies to pursue their goals and to compete in higher education markets as well as issues related to faculty labor markets The book is written for both economists and non economists who study higher education issues and provides readers with background information and thorough explanations and illustrations of key economic concepts In addition to reviewing the contributions economists have made to the study of higher education it also examines recent research in each of the major topical areas The book is policy focused and each chapter analyses how contemporary higher education policies affect the behaviour of students faculty and or institutions of higher education Toutkoushian and Paulsen attempted a daunting task to write a book on the economics of higher education for non economists that is also useful to economists A book that could be used for reference and as a textbook for higher education classes in economics finance and policy They accomplish this tough balancing act with stunning success in a large volume that will serve as the go to place for anyone interested in the history and current thinking on the economics of higher education William E Becker Jr Professor Emeritus of Economics Indiana University
