Colloquial Japanese H.B.D Clarke,Motoko Hamamura,2013-07-23

Colloquial Japanese provides a step by step course in Japanese as it is written and spoken today Combining a user friendly approach with a thorough treatment of the language it equips learners with the essential skills needed to communicate confidently and effectively in Japanese in a broad range of situations

Second Language Learning and Identity Mika Yoshimoto,2008

This book is largely about second language learning and identity construction It is based on a unique hybrid design of case study and autoethnography In addition diary study plays an important role in allowing the participants to express themselves in a self reflective way The author examines and discusses with the participants of her research the everyday struggles of Japanese women in Canada who are trying to learn English Of particular interest to this study was the role of metaphor in language which constructs our conceptual framework in a manner consistent with sociocultural theory and critical theory Also Foucault s discourse theory plays a prominent role particularly with regards to diary interviews and group meetings in that it sees identity and discourse as being profoundly interrelated and inseparable Thus by examining discourse we can become more aware of changes in identity With regards to the context of this study with respect to other research the author believes that there is a significant connection to Bonny Norton s notion of investment rather than motivation with regards to how invested a second language learner feels in his or her studies Also Hongyu Wang who writes extensively in the style of autoethnography has helped me come to understand my journey that generates feelings of exclusion repression and alienation Bakhtin s notion of multiple voices was also very important to the author as she discussed identity as constantly shifting layered voices in multiple contexts In second language learning research there is very little attention paid to the perspective of the learner with regards to how they feel and their identity Most other research in this area looks at particular linguistic functions such as syntax morphology etc This research is also a documentation of the author s personal journey as she was a participant in her own research The importance of narratives is also something that the author found was largely ignored in second language research For this reason the author ensured that it was central to her work When the author first began this research her aim was to help Japanese women who were studying English understand the changes in identity that they were experiencing However as her research progressed she saw that this research would benefit all students pursuing a second language all teachers of second languages as well as researchers in SLA and curriculum theorists The use of haiku throughout the thesis is a particularly unique reflection of poetic discourse Autoethnography has also recently grown in popularity in terms of its use in research and is used extensively throughout this work The use of the liminal space doubling space in between space Third Space notion in the exploration of identity and its transformation in this work is also quite interesting Through this research the author has uncovered a profound connection between language and identity For Japanese women learning English is both liberating and unsettling This beautifully written work will be an important book for all involved in second language learning curriculum theorists as well as researchers concerned with connections between language and identity poetic inquiry and discourse narrative theory and autoethnography

Transcending Language Education in Japan Madoka Hammine, Nathanael Rudolph, 2025-12-11 Explores how language educators in Japan wrestle with notions of identity culture and community to promote fair teaching practices

Minna No Nihongo. Shokyu I. Honsatsu. Answer Booklet, 1998

Language and Culture David Nunan, Julie Choi, 2010-05-07 This state of the art exploration of language culture and identity is orchestrated through prominent scholars and teachers narratives each weaving together three elements a personal account based on one or more memorable or critical incidents that occurred in the course of learning or using a second or foreign language an interpretation of the incidents highlighting their impact in terms of culture identity and language the connections between the experiences and observations of the author and existing literature on language culture and identity What makes this book stand out is the way in which authors meld traditional academic approaches to inquiry with their own personalized voices This opens a window on different ways of viewing and doing research in Applied Linguistics and TESOL What gives the book its power is the compelling nature of the narratives themselves Telling stories is a fundamental way of representing and making sense of the human condition These stories unpack in an accessible but rigorous fashion complex socio cultural constructs of culture identity the self and other and reflexivity and offer a way into these constructs for teachers teachers in preparation and neophyte researchers Contributors from around the world give the book broad and international appeal
