Additionally, in the liabilities section, the long-term debt of the organization is 14.7 percent of total liabilities and equity which is considered high suggesting that in starting-up of the corporation money was borrowed. On the other hand, the capital surplus is low i.e. 6.5 percent with positive retained earnings of about 30.7 percent demonstrating that it is not facing losses over a period of three years.

The Evolution of Tiger Management

Martin Hemmert, 2017-10-19. Throughout the last several decades, Korean companies have become strong global competitors in a wide range of manufacturing industries. How did they achieve this exceptional performance? The Evolution of Tiger Management uncovers the secret of their success through a comprehensive analysis of Korean style management. It explains how it has developed, why it works so well, what non-Koreans can learn from it, and what Korean companies need to do to stay competitive in the future. This book is an extended and significantly updated new edition of Tiger Management: Korean companies on world markets (Routledge, 2012). It tells the remarkable stories of how Korean firms seemingly coming from nowhere have successfully challenged their Western and Japanese competitors globally. A new chapter highlights the rise of Korean venture firms and start-ups. Next, the essence of Tiger Management is analyzed by showing that it consists of an effective combination of business strategy, leadership, and human resource management practices. Finally, the evolution and future of Tiger Management is discussed by showing how Korean companies have adapted to changes at home and abroad, and how non-Korean companies can adopt Tiger Management. A new final chapter discusses the way forward for Korean companies.

This book analyses the technology development efforts of Korea's electronics industry the country's largest exporter It asks how the Korean electronics industry was able to develop both in terms of production and technology despite low inflows of licensing and foreign direct investments The book argues that the key to its spectacular growth has been through its participation and learning from an inter firm arrangement called original equipment manufacturing arrangement OEM A number of firm level case studies on the Korean electronics industry support this argument The role of the government especially related to its technology policy has also been analysed The government was effective in providing financial incentives for the firms technological upgrading efforts but its supplying of direct technological assistance had limited success Overall this book argues that contrary to many previous studies the role of multinational enterprises has been significant in the development of Korea's electronics industry and that they have acted as a technological tutor for Korea through OEM
