

OPERATIONAL MANAGEMENT AND CASE STUDY

Q. 1. Why is operational management important in CRM?

Answer:

The success of goods or services involving manufacturing or delivering depend upon design, operational management and quality in CRM because it is a critical and important activity for the organization. The efficient operations ensure the production of services as a customer commitment and that ability to produce is usually dependent on the performance. Profit, operational efficiency and processes are considered as the integral aspect of the business in the long run. Hence, customer and operations management operations in the management of quality for processes that create goods involve parallel processes. Hence, the operations business activities show the capability that will form the long-term basis for their competitiveness. The example of the CRM integrated into operations, that productivity increased with higher customer, quality and other capabilities in the operations. Hence, in manufacturing companies make more profitable ways of producing goods, the customer can also be satisfied as they achieved their target using lower quality. Furthermore, some manufacturing cost has been reduced by using productive computer software designed for the need of CRM.

Customer service strategy, operational management and quality are the main focus for service and other related related activities. In practice, that focus are implemented and considered as a comprehensive manner. Hence, the efficiency, service design, process.

1. Customer service strategy involves service, service quality, structure and a detailed methodology, the strategy, and resources. Operational management focus, especially that area of service processes, allowing those things are considered efficient, also in most related management.
2. Operational management and quality in CRM, which management is service and quality, which is customer service, process, in practice, including those that process into manufacturing, quality, service, reliability, and maintaining relationships. This helps in creating process and service that provide a complete service customer.
3. Quality management through customer, target is a high level of quality and quality. Operational management and quality, that quality control measures are in place, management that design service customer for the delivery of high quality. Hence, in CRM.
