Assault on Rural Poverty Haileleul Getahun, Hailemariam Getahun, 2001 In Assault on Rural Poverty Haileleul Getahun analyzes the various causes of rural poverty and constraints impeding increased agricultural productivity during the last four decades in Ethiopia under three different regimes Getahun examines the feudalistic system under Emperor Haile Selassie the command economic system of the military junta led by Mengistu Haile Mariam and the current capitalist system of the Federal Republic of Ethiopia led by Meles Zenawi Getahun discusses the lessons drawn from Ethiopian experience during these three regimes as well as from other African and Asian countries These provide the basis for recommending a small farmer led agricultural and rural development strategy that if implemented would alleviate rural poverty in Ethiopia The author maintains that the keys for successful development are the provision of institutional savings and credit for small scale farmers and small business owners the deep involvement of the community in project planning implementation evaluation and sharing of the benefits and the use of development support communication for motivation information dissemination and training Getahun argues strongly that ethnic politics in Ethiopia are destructive to Ethiopian society and militates against sustainable development Rather the path to peace and sustainable development requires that ethnic politics be scrapped and replaced by a genuinely democratic and widely acceptable system of governance

The Regional Geography of Canada Robert M. Bone,2005 The Regional Geography of Canada divides Canada into six geographic regions Ontario Quebec British Columbia Western Canada Atlantic Canada and the Territorial North Each region has a particular regional geography history population and a unique location These factors have determined each region s character set the direction for its development and created a sense of place In examining these themes this text underscores the dynamic nature of Canada s regional geography

Germany Olaf Kühne, Florian Weber,2022-03-02 This book addresses the highly differentiated spatial social cultural and demographic structures of Germany with a particular focus on the reciprocal relations between different levels of spatial development The historical development of Germany serves as a background in order to provide context for the development of spatially relevant ideas and ideals whether in relation to politics landscape or culture In this regard questions of divergence and convergence become highly salient The book makes the complexity of spatial and social developments in Germany comprehensible The neopragmatic approach adopted here allows bringing together different theoretical strands while providing a basis for independent regional geographic research at the same time Beginning with an overview of the physical structures of Germany which provides the material point of departure for the societal development of Germany key aspects of the German history are discussed Particular attention is paid to the reciprocal influence between material substrate and notions of landscape Here specific German trajectories of aesthetic and normative conceptions of landscape become clear A common theme throughout the book are questions of divergence and of efforts towards convergence which become evident when considering past and present economic political and demographic developments Efforts to tackle current challenges such as adapting to climate change and mitigating it or securing raw materials also become apparent The complexity of spatial processes in Germany is illustrated in case study regions dealing with the challenges of structural change in traditional industrial regions such as the Ruhr area or e g efforts of Berlin to position and find itself as the capital of a unified Germany Overall the book shows how theory driven regional geographic research can make spatiotemporal complexities tangible and comprehensible
