Brian R. Farmer, 2006-04-03 For many people the world of politics is defined by ideologies The average voter rarely takes time to research a policy issue thoroughly relying instead on a set of beliefs set forth by his or her chosen political organization to make important decisions These publicly promoted ideologies play an important role in international as well as domestic political development yet many adherents to a particular belief may have a poor understanding of competing ideologies From right wing to the far left this text dissects eight prominent political ideologies traditional conservatism classic liberalism libertarianism conservative extremism contemporary liberalism communism dependency theory and Islamism In plain terms it describes the basic doctrine and inherent contradictions of each creed along with its particular relevance to today's political landscape An in depth discussion of the political socialization processes that form and perpetuate ideologies is also included Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Reconsidering Habermas's Colonization Thesis Roderick Condon, 2025-03-31 This book reconsiders Habermas's critique of capitalism as a foundation for a critical theory of neoliberalism. Taking criticisms into account, the author refines and redevelops Habermas's system/lifeworld paradigm in three parts focusing on system/lifeworld and communication. The exposition unfolds through a new synthesis and convergence from within Habermas's frame of Axel Honneth, Niklas Luhmann, Talcott Parsons, and Karl Marx. This synthesis is interwoven with an account of the neoliberal turn such that social theory is historically contextualized and neoliberalism theoretically explained at one and the same time. The end result is a reconstruction of the colonization thesis in a new theory of relinguistification, advancing a communicative/ dialectical and reflexive theory of reification. Reconsidering Habermas's Colonization Thesis will appeal to scholars of critical theory, social theory, sociology, and cultural studies, as well as readers interested in neoliberalism and the critique of capitalism. Emotion in Group Decision and Negotiation Bilyana Martinovsky, 2015-07-01 The volume offers an exploration of methods for analysis of emotion in negotiation such as cognitive modeling, discourse analysis, all testing, subsequent multidimensional scaling, impression rating, and graph modeling for conflict resolution, reasonable and unreasonable disagreement. It covers activities such as business negotiation, conflict solving, bargaining, task management, meetings, discussions, and elaborates on different kinds of emotions. Some emotions stimulate negotiation, e.g., empathy; others hinder it, e.g., disgust. However, all emotions open a door to uncertainty in relations and negotiation, which in turn provides an opportunity. The volume views language in negotiation not only as a vehicle for transmission of thought but also as a manifestation of emotion and the ethical.
