Composing Electronic Music Curtis Roads, 2015-06-17 Electronic music evokes new sensations feelings and thoughts in both composers and listeners Opening the door to an unlimited universe of sound it engages spatialization as an integral aspect of composition and focuses on sound transformation as a core structural strategy In this new domain pitch occurs as a flowing and ephemeral substance that can be bent modulated or dissolved into noise Similarly time occurs not merely as a fixed duration subdivided by ratios but as a plastic medium that can be generated modulated reversed warped scrambled and granulated Envelope and waveform undulations on all time scales interweave to generate form The power of algorithmic methods amplify the capabilities of music technology Taken together these constitute game changing possibilities This convergence of technical and aesthetic trends prompts the need for a new text focused on the opportunities of a sound oriented multiscale approach to composition of electronic music Sound oriented means a practice that takes place in the presence of sound Multiscale means an approach that takes into account the perceptual and physical reality of multiple interacting time scales each of which can be composed After more than a century of research and development now is an appropriate moment to step back and reevaluate all that has changed under the ground of artistic practice Composing Electronic Music outlines a new theory of composition based on the toolkit of electronic music techniques The theory consists of a framework of concepts and a vocabulary of terms describing musical materials their transformation and their organization Central to this discourse is the notion of narrative structure in composition how sounds are born interact transform and die It presents a guidebook a tour of facts history commentary opinions and pointers to interesting ideas and new possibilities to consider and explore

Reference Department,1964 Towards a Global Music Theory Mark Hijleh,2016-02-24 Since the beginning of the twentieth century the cross pollenization of world musical materials and practices has accelerated precipitously due in large part to advances in higher speed communications and travel We live now in a world of global musical practice that will only continue to blossom and develop through the twenty first century and beyond Yet music theory as an academic discipline is only just beginning to respond to such a milieu Conferences workshops and curricula are for the first time beginning to develop around the theme of world music theory as students teachers and researchers recognize the need for analytical concepts and methods applicable to a wider range of human musics not least the hybrid musics that influence and increasingly define more and more of the world s musical practices Towards a Global Music Theory proposes a number of such concepts and methods stemming from durational and acoustic relationships between twos and threes as manifested in various interrelated aspects of music including rhythm melody harmony process texture timbre and tuning and offers suggestions for how such concepts and methods might be applied effectively to the understanding of music in a variety of contexts While some of the bases for this foray into possible methods for a twenty first century music theory lie along well established acoustical and psycho acoustical lines Dr Mark Hijleh presents a broad attempt to apply them conceptually and comprehensively to a variety of musics in a relevant way that can be readily apprehended and applied by students scholars and teachers
