Pakistan Studies M A Part I:

Pakistan Studies for B.A./B.Sc./B.Com./B.Sc. (home Economics) Muḥammad Razā Kāzmi, 2007 This text covers the syllabi prescribed by the major public sector universities in Pakistan The book provides a complete overview of the historical background and political development of Pakistan the breakup of 1971 and the nuclearization of Pakistan The foreign relations section deals with the role of world powers during the wars fought by Pakistan and Pakistan s relations with South Asian and Middle Eastern countries The economy and culture of Pakistan are also covered in great detail Pakistan Journal of Scientific and Industrial Research ,1969 The Languages and Linguistics of South Asia Hans Henrich Hock, Elena Bashir, 2016-05-24 With nearly a quarter of the world s population members of at least five major language families plus several putative language isolates South Asia is a fascinating arena for linguistic investigations whether comparative historical linguistics studies of language contact and multilingualism or general linguistic theory This volume provides a state of the art survey of linguistic research on the languages of South Asia with contributions by well known experts Focus is both on what has been accomplished so far and on what remains unresolved or controversial and hence offers challenges for future research In addition to covering the languages their histories and their genetic classification as well as phonetics phonology morphology syntax and sociolinguistics the volume provides special coverage of contact and convergence indigenous South Asian grammatical traditions applications of modern technology to South Asian languages and South Asian writing systems An appendix offers a classified listing of major sources and resources both digital online and printed The State of Social Sciences in Pakistan ,2001 Papers read at a conference in Islamabad Pakistan

(Re)Constructing Memory: Textbooks, Identity, Nation, and State James H. Williams, Wendy D. Bokhorst-Heng, 2016-07-08 This book engages readers in thirteen conversations presented by authors from around the world regarding the role that textbooks play in helping readers imagine membership in the nation Authors voices come from a variety of contexts some historical some contemporary some providing analyses over time But they all consider the changing portrayal of diversity belonging and exclusion in multiethnic and diverse societies where silenced invisible marginalized members have struggled to make their voices heard and to have their identities incorporated into the national narrative The authors discuss portrayals of past exclusions around religion ethnicity sexual orientation as they look at the shifting boundaries of insider and outsider This book is thus about who we are not only demographically but also in terms of the past especially how and whether we teach discredited pasts through textbooks The concluding chapters provides ways forward in thinking about what can be done to promote curricula that are more inclusive critical and positively bonding in increasingly larger and more inclusive contexts Shadows at Noon Joya Chatterji, 2025-08-30 Shadows at Noon is an ambitious synthesis of decades of research and scholarship which explores the key strands of South Asian history in the twentieth century with clarity and authority Unlike other narrative histories of the subcontinent that concentrate exclusively on politics here food leisure and the household are given equal importance to discussions of nationhood the development of the state and patterns of migration While it tells the subcontinent s story from the British Raj to independence and partition and on to the forging of the modern nations of India Pakistan and Bangladesh the book s structure is thematic rather than chronological Each of the chapters illuminates on overarching theme or sphere that has shaped South Asia over the course of the century This format allows the reader to explore particular issues such as the changing character of nationalism or food consumption over time and in depth

Shadows at Noon is a bold innovative and personal work that pushes back against standard narratives of inherent differences between India Pakistan and Bangladesh Its purpose is to make contemporary South Asia intelligible to readers who are fascinated by the subcontinent s cultural vibrancy and diversity but are often perplexed by its social and political make up And it illuminates the many aspects that its people have in common rather than what divides them
