Rogers,James Alan Adams,1990 This text is ideal for junior senior and graduate level courses in computer graphics and computer aided design taught in departments of mechanical and aeronautical engineering and computer science It presents in a unified manner an introduction to the mathematical theory underlying computer graphic applications It covers topics of keen interest to students in engineering and computer science transformations projections 2 D and 3 D curve definition schemes and surface definitions It also includes techniques such as B splines which are incorporated as part of the software in advanced engineering workstations A basic knowledge of vector and matrix algebra and calculus is required

Introduction to Computing and Algorithms Russell L. Shackelford,1999 Introduction to Computing and Algorithms prepares students for the world of computing by giving them a solid foundation in the study of computer science algorithms By taking an algorithm based approach to the subject this book helps readers grasp overall concepts rather than getting them bogged down with specific syntax details of a programming language that can become obsolete Students work with algorithms from the start and apply these ideas to real problems that computers can help solve The benefit of this approach is that students will understand the power of computers as problem solving tools learn to think like programmers and gain an appreciation of the computer science discipline   Data Structures and Algorithms in Java Michael T. Goodrich,Roberto Tamassia,1998-01-23 Using a unique multimedia format for learning the fundamentals of data structures and algorithms this conceptually elegant and innovative text incorporates the object oriented design paradigm with Java as the implementation language The result is a learning experience that provides the fundamental intuition and analysis of each structure studied A Web site complete with Java applications and applets accompanies the text Includes CD ROM with The Microsoft Visual J programming environment
