Solar-Assisted Air-Conditioning in Buildings H.-M. Henning,2007-08 This second edition of a hugely important work on this subject still plugs a gap in the literature It is a source of crucial support to the planner in the design of solar assisted air conditioning systems which use solar collectors as a heat source Air conditioning contributes significantly to the energy consumption of buildings in many countries and a promising possibility for energy reduction is the use of solar thermal energy in solar assisted air conditioning systems However until today only a few systems have been installed world wide and design and operation experiences are fairly poor CASES ... ,2006 Oil & Gas Science and Technology ,2007

Paper ,1995 Bulletin de L'Institut International Du Froid ,2009 Winter Annual Meeting American Society of Mechanical Engineers,1995 Thermal Quadrupoles Denis Maillet,2000-11-17 This superb text describes a novel and powerful method for allowing design engineers to firstly model a linear problem in heat conduction then build a solution in an explicit form and finally obtain a numerical solution It constitutes a modelling and calculation tool based on a very efficient and systemic methodological approach Solving the heat equations through integral transforms does not constitute a new subject However finding a solution generally constitutes only one part of the problem In design problems an initial thermal design has to be tested through the calculation of the temperature or flux field followed by an analysis of this field in terms of constraints A modified design is then proposed followed by a new thermal field calculation and so on until the right design is found The thermal quadrupole method allows this often painful iterative procedure to be removed by allowing only one calculation The chapters in this book increase in complexity from a rapid presentation of the method for one dimensional transient problems in chapter one to non uniform boundary conditions or inhomogeneous media in chapter six In addition a wide range of corrected problems of contemporary interest are presented mainly in chapters three and six with their numerical implementation in MATLAB r language This book covers the whole scope of linear problems and presents a wide range of concrete issues of contemporary interest such as harmonic excitations of buildings transfer in composite media thermal contact resistance and moving material heat transfer Extensions of this method to coupled transfers in a semi transparent medium and to mass transfer in porous media are considered respectively in chapters seven and eight Chapter nine is devoted to practical numerical methods that can be used to inverse the Laplace transform Written from an engineering perspective with applications to real engineering problems this book will be of significant interest not only to researchers lecturers and graduate students in mechanical engineering thermodynamics and process engineers needing to model a heat transfer problem to obtain optimized operating conditions but also to researchers interested in the simulation or design of experiments where heat transfer play a significant role IEEE Transactions on Circuits and Systems ,2005 Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1996 Annual Index/abstracts of SAE Technical Papers ,2006 Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2001-08 CEP Software Directory ,1992
