

Chapter 5 Infection Control: Principles and Practices

Why study infection control: principles and practices?

1. Determine your own role in why it is being taught in your infection control course.

(i.e. understand the study objectives, understand why it is being taught in your infection control course, and identify it as an important part of your education, for your own safety, success, and legal standing, etc. etc. etc. - these objectives should be able to help you understand your own role in why it is being taught in your infection control course.)

Meet the Current Regulations for Health and Safety

1. In regard to regulating the practice of cosmetology, what is the difference between state of regulation and state agencies?

Regulation is the process of creating rules and standards for a profession, industry, or business. State agencies are the organizations that enforce these rules and standards.

2. What does OSHA stand for? Occupational Safety and Health Administration

OSHA is a federal agency that is part of the U.S. Department of Labor.

OSHA is responsible for enforcing workplace safety and health regulations, including those that apply to cosmetology.

3. What is the purpose of the Patient Safety Movement (PSM)?

The Patient Safety Movement (PSM) is a national effort to reduce medical errors and improve patient safety. It is a collaborative effort between healthcare providers, patients, and the public.

4. What does your state's OSHA standards apply to? Occupational Safety and Health Administration

OSHA standards apply to all employers and employees in the United States, including those in the cosmetology industry. OSHA standards are designed to protect workers from occupational hazards and to ensure a safe and healthy work environment.

5. Federal and state laws regulate cosmetology, but what is the difference between federal and state laws? Federal laws are laws that apply to all states, while state laws are laws that apply only to a specific state.
