Moving Objects Damon Taylor,2020-09-17 Moving Objects deals with emotive design designed objects that demand to be engaged with rather than simply used If postmodernism depended upon ironic distance and Critical Design is all about questions then emotive design runs hotter than this confronting how designers are using feelings in what they make Damon Taylor s original study considers these emotionally laden highly authored works often produced in limited editions and sold like art objects such as a chair made from cuddly toys a leather sofa that resembles a cow and a jewellery box fashioned from human hair Tracing the phenomenon back to the Dutch inflection that began with Droog designers like Jurgen Bey and Hella Jongerius Taylor conducts an analysis of the development of Design Art and looks for its origins in the uncanny explorations of surrealism Offering a critique of Speculative Design and an examination of the work of designers such as Mathias Bengtsson whose work involves growing furniture inside computers Taylor asks what happens when the tangible melts into the datascape and design becomes a question of mobilities In this way Moving Objects examines contemporary issues of how we live with artefacts and what design can do

Global Heating and the Australian Far Right Imogen Richards,Gearóid Brinn,Callum Jones,2023-12-01 Global Heating and the Australian Far Right examines the environmental politics of far right actors and movements in Australia exploring their broader political context and responses to climate change The book traces the development of far right pseudo environmentalism and territorial politics from colonial genocide and Australian nationalism to extreme right political violence Through a critical analysis of news and social media it reveals how denialist and resignatory attitudes towards climate change operate alongside extreme right accelerationism in a wider Australian political context characterised by reactionary fossil fuel politics and neoliberal New Right climate change agendas The authors scrutinise the manipulation of environmental politics by contemporary Australian far and extreme right actors in cross national online media They also assess the political ideological context of the contemporary far right addressing intergovernmental approaches to security threats connected to the far right and climate change and the emergence of radical environmentalist traditions in New Catastrophism literature The conclusion synthesises key insights analysing the mainstreaming of ethnonationalist and authoritarian responses to global heating and potential future trajectories of far right movements exploiting the climate crisis It also emphasises the necessity for radical political alternatives to counter the far right s exploitation of climate change This book will be of interest to researchers of climate change the far right neoliberal capitalism extremism and Australian politics
