A Basic Step On Cyber Security For Dummies Peter Smith,2021-05-19 Ever did you wonder the network that you use every day is not as secure as you think it is? You can't do anything to protect your PC without your consent. The world is full of malware. We just think of computers as our friends. But they're not. They can produce a network that is transformed into a many-gated unfriendly environment. The network is also heavily guarded. The network is not as secure as you think it is. These threats can be very dangerous.
