Teaching in Nursing - E-Book Diane M. Billings, Judith A. Halstead, 2015-10-31 Set yourself up for success as a nurse educator with the award-winning Teaching in Nursing: A Guide for Faculty, 5th Edition. Recommended by the NLN for comprehensive CNE prep, this insightful text is the only one of its kind to cover all three components of teaching: instruction, curriculum, and evaluation. As it walks through the day-to-day challenges of teaching, readers will benefit from its expert guidance on key issues such as curriculum and test development, diverse learning styles, the redesign of healthcare systems, and advancements in technology and information. This new edition contains all the helpful narrative that earned this title an AJN Book of the Year award, along with updated information on technology-empowered learning, the flipped classroom, interprofessional collaborative practice, and much more. Coverage of concept-based curricula includes strategies on how to approach and implement concept-based lessons. Extensive information on online education discusses the use of webinars and other practical guidance for effective online instruction. Evidence-based teaching boxes cover issues such as how to do evidence-based teaching, applications of evidence-based teaching, implications for faculty development, administration, and the institution, and how to use open-ended application questions at the end of each chapter for faculty-guided discussion. Strategies to promote critical thinking and active learning are incorporated throughout the text, highlighting various evaluation techniques, lesson planning insights, and tips for developing examinations. Updated research and references address forward-thinking approaches to education and trends for the future. Guidance on teaching in diverse settings addresses topics such as the models of clinical teaching, teaching in interdisciplinary settings, how to evaluate students in the clinical setting, and how to adapt teaching for community-based practice. Strong focus on practical content, including extensive coverage of curriculum development, equips future educators to handle the daily challenges and opportunities of teaching. NEW Chapter on Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice focuses on the collaboration of care across patient care providers, emphasizing clear communication and shared patient outcomes. NEW Renamed unit on Curriculum as a Process better reflects the latest QSEN competencies and other leading national standards. NEW Renamed unit on Technology Empowered Learning covers the use of technology for learning, including non-traditional course formats, active learning, flipped classrooms, and more.

Evaluating Communication for Development June Lennie, Jo Tacchi, 2013 Evaluating Communication for Development C4D presents a comprehensive framework for evaluating communication for development. This framework combines the latest thinking from a number of fields in new ways. It critiques dominant instrumental, accountability-based approaches to development and evaluation and offers an alternative, holistic, participatory, mixed-methods approach based on systems and complexity thinking and other key concepts It maintains a focus on power gender and other differences and social norms The authors have designed the framework as a way to focus on achieving sustainable social change and to continually improve and develop C4D initiatives The benefits and rigour of this approach are supported by examples and case studies from a number of action research and evaluation capacity development projects undertaken by the authors over the past fifteen years Building on current arguments within the fields of C4D and development the authors reinforce the case for effective communication being a central and vital component of participatory forms of development something that needs to be appreciated by decision makers They also consider ways of increasing the effectiveness of evaluation capacity development from grassroots to management level in the development context an issue of growing importance to improving the quality effectiveness and utilisation of monitoring and evaluation studies in this field The book includes a critical review of the key approaches methodologies and methods that are considered effective for planning evaluation assessing the outcomes of C4D and engaging in continuous learning This rigorous book is of immense theoretical and practical value to students scholars and professionals researching or working in development communication and media applied anthropology and evaluation and program planning

Pandemic Response: Challenges, Advances, and Lessons Learnt Brent M. Egan,Eva Lee,Duane Caneva,2025-10-30 SARS CoV 2 has unleashed the pandemic of the century inflicting over a million deaths in the United States and over six million deaths worldwide since it was first reported in December 2019 COVID 19 the disease caused by SARS CoV 2 overwhelmed healthcare systems paralyzed the global economy set back education disrupted the supply chain and traumatized every fiber of critical infrastructure in society In developing countries COVID 19 set back decades of progress in fighting hunger poverty illiteracy and childhood health protection via vaccination Although substantial resources have been invested in pandemic preparedness and response it is clear that the world was not prepared for COVID 19 as public health leaders ignored warnings and failed to convert their level of preparedness into timely actions for early disease containment and effective mitigation Nonetheless this devastating crisis triggered unparallel and critical scientific advances including novel diagnostic testing and drug design advances in clinical treatment and rapid vaccine development As we continue to fight the virus variants work to reduce the burden of illness and curb transmission globally to end the pandemic we must understand and investigate the challenges advances and lessons learned in order to better prepare and protect humanity against the next pandemic While countries have varied significantly in their available resources and application of public health measures to combat the spread of the virus this pandemic clearly shows that a country's wealth does not necessarily secure the health of its citizens. A successful pandemic response demands decisive leadership and look-ahead system competence. The pandemic crisis calls for a reassessment that leads to innovation in public health disaster medicine. This presents a clear opportunity for building a resilient society and infrastructure by drawing from successful actions and lessons learned from every part of the world. The number of infectious disease outbreaks has been accelerating, many of which have pandemic potential. These disease outbreaks constitute a major global risk and require coordinated and decisive actions across all countries. Public health must seize the moment as the COVID-19 pandemic offers a wealth of lessons for reassessment and innovation to build a better and sustained health security future. This research topic seeks original research on topics related to the challenges scientific advances, clinical and basic science, and lessons learned during the COVID-19 crisis. Examples of such topics include: Optimizing constrained resources (e.g., redesigning ventilators for multiple patient usage, decontaminating N95 masks, pooling for tests, etc.); Novel drug and treatment discovery; Rapid vaccine design; Operations and systems redesign (e.g., contact tracing, mass screening, and vaccination); Adapting clinical facilities; Alternative care delivery and manufacturing bottlenecks; Tradeoffs and impact of various public health policies and response actions in mitigating the pandemic. We expect authors from the following range, but not limited to:

1. Scientists and clinicians who succeeded in advancing ventilator usage by making it for multiple people to share one.
2. Scientists who have succeeded in decontaminating the N95 so that it can be used for 21 days instead of 1 day.
3. Hospital leaders who succeeded in adapting the clinical environment so that it can adapt to the maximum number of patients, being agile, and being able to protect their workers.
4. mRNA technology: how it overcomes the time hurdle to roll out at such rapid speed.
5. How local strike teams raced through the limited resources and time and managed to vaccinate as many people as possible.
