Baptist Church Choir Lines:

The Rise of Gospel Blues Michael W. Harris, 1994-06-23 Most observers believe that gospel music has been sung in African American churches since their organization in the late 1800s Yet nothing could be further from the truth as Michael W Harris s history of gospel blues reveals Tracing the rise of gospel blues as seen through the career of its founding figure Thomas Andrew Dorsey Harris tells the story of the most prominent person in the advent of gospel blues Also known as Georgia Tom Dorsey had considerable success in the 1920s as a pianist composer and arranger for prominent blues singers including Ma Rainey In the 1930s he became involved in Chicago s African American old line Protestant churches where his background in the blues greatly influenced his composing and singing Following much controversy during the 1930s and the eventual overwhelming response that Dorsey s new form of music received the gospel blues became a major force in African American churches and religion His more than 400 gospel songs and recent Grammy Award indicate that he is still today the most prolific composer publisher in the movement Delving into the life of the central figure of gospel blues Harris illuminates not only the evolution of this popular musical form but also the thought and social forces that forged the culture in which this music was shaped

My Journey Walking the Chalk Line of Life by Faith Odell K. Miller, 2022-01-17 This book was written in tribute to two great women My first wife Alice passed away because of lupus My second wife Velma passed away because of dementia If I could have taken the place of either one of my wives I would have Both my wives were similar at birth They were both twins Each had a twin who was a boy This was something unheard of that I could marry two different women with the same birth traits Both were devout Christian women Their faith in God was their key to their endurance I know it was in God s plan that he had given me this ministry to be the caregiver for these two ladies of the gospel of Jesus Christ My chalk line of life by faith also was my key to my endurance I am going to be obedient to God s word for my marriage vows are For better or for worse for richer or for poorer in sickness and in health to love and to cherish till death do us part What a glorious day when we all meet in heaven What a family reunion that will be Come on and follow me on my journey on the chalk line of life by faith looking for the answer for the twins This story is about my love for two ladies who exemplified Proverbs 31 10 They were truly two virtuous women

We Just Keep Running the Line LaGuana Gray, 2014-11-05 The poultry processing industry in El Dorado Arkansas was an economic powerhouse in the latter half of the twentieth century It was the largest employer in the interconnected region of South Arkansas and North Louisiana surrounding El Dorado and the fates of many related companies and farms depended on its continued financial success We Just Keep Running the Line is the story of the rise of the poultry processing industry in El Dorado and the labor force composed primarily of black women upon which it came to rely At a time when agricultural jobs were in decline and Louisiana stood at the forefront of rising anti welfare sentiment much of the work available in the area went to men driving women into less attractive labor intensive jobs LaGuana Gray argues that the justification for placing African American women in the lowest paying and most dangerous of these jobs like poultry processing derives from longstanding mischaracterizations of black women by those in power In evaluating the perception of black women as less than white women less feminine less moral less deserving of social assistance and less invested in their families and communities well being Gray illuminates the often exploitative nature of southern labor the growth of the agribusiness model of food production and the role of women of color in such food industries Using collected oral histories to allow marginalized women of color to tell their own stories and to contest and reshape narratives commonly used against them We Just Keep Running the Line explores the physical and psychological toll this work took on black women analyzing their survival strategies and their fight to retain their humanity in an exploitative industry The Baptist Church Hymnal Rowland Briant,1900
