The Diplomats Daughter English Edition:

Jezebel's Daughter Wilkie Collins, 1880 The Dean and His Daughter Francis Charles Philips, 1887 Reading Early Modern Women Helen Ostovich, Elizabeth Sauer, 2004-08-02 Much has been written about women of the English Renaissance but few examples of women's writing from that era have been readily available until now This remarkable anthology assembles for the first time 144 primary texts and documents written by women between 1550 and 1700 and reveals an unprecedented view of the intellectual and literary lives of women in early modern England The writings range from poetry to philosophical treatises addressing a wide array of subjects including law gender education motherhood medicine religion life writing and the arts Each selection is paired with a beautifully reproduced facsimile of the text's original source manuscript allowing a glimpse into the literary past that will lead the reader to truly appreciate the care and craft with which these women writers prepared their texts This essential anthology is a captivating guide to the legacy of early modern women's literature and its authors that must not be overlooked

The Spur, 1922 Polish Film Charles Ford, Robert Hammond, 2015-05-07 When the Lumiere brothers introduced the motion picture in 1895 Poland was a divided and suffering nation yet Polish artists found their way into the new world of cinema Boleslaw Matuszewski created his first documentary films in 1896 and Poland's first movie house was established in 1908 Despite war and repression Polish cinema continued to grow and to reach for artistic heights The twentieth century closed with new challenges but a new generation of Polish filmmakers stood ready to meet them Here is a complete history of the Polish cinema through the end of the twentieth century with special attention to political and economic contexts

The End and the Beginning Hermynia Zur Mühlen, 2010 First published in Germany in 1929 The End and the Beginning is a lively personal memoir of a vanished world and of a rebellious high spirited young woman's struggle to achieve independence Born in 1883 into a distinguished and wealthy aristocratic family of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire Hermynia Zur Mühlen spent much of her childhood travelling in Europe and North Africa with her diplomat father After five years on her German husband's estate in czarist Russia she broke with both her family and her husband and set out on a precarious career as a professional writer committed to socialism Besides translating many leading contemporary authors notably Upton Sinclair into German she herself published an impressive number of politically engaged novels detective stories short stories and children's fairy tales Because of her outspoken opposition to National Socialism she had to flee her native Austria in 1938 and seek refuge in England where she died virtually penniless in 1951 This revised and corrected translation of Zur Mühlen's memoir with extensive notes and an essay on the author by Lionel Gossman will appeal especially to readers interested in women's history the Central European aristocratic world that came to an end with the First World War and the culture and politics of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries
