Chapter 1 Social Science And Its Methods:

Science and Social Science Malcolm Williams, 2012-10-02 Is social science really a science at all and if so in what sense This is the first question that any course on the philosophy of the social sciences must tackle In this brief introduction Malcolm Williams gives students the grounding that will enable them to discuss the issues involved with confidence He looks at The historical development of natural science and its distinctive methodology the case in favour of an objective science of the social which follows the same rules The arguments of social constructionists interpretative sociologists and others against objectivity and even science itself recent developments in natural science for instance the rise of complexity theory and the increased questioning of positivism which bring it closer to some of the key arguments of social science Throughout the book is illustrated with short clear examples taken from the actual practice of social science research and from popular works of natural science which will illuminate the debate for all students whatever their background Bulletin - National Council for the Social Studies National Council for the Social Studies, 1969 Social Science Elgin F. Hunt, David C. Colander, 1987 Financial pamphlets, 1876 The Elements of Economics Henry Dunning Macleod, 1899 Quantitative Methods in Politics Stuart Arthur Rice, 1928 The Fields and Methods of Knowledge Raymond Frank Piper, Paul William Ward, 1929 Marx's Capital, Method and Revolutionary Subjectivity Guido Starosta, 2015-11-24 In Marx's Capital Method and Revolutionary Subjectivity Guido Starosta develops a materialist inquiry into the social and historical determinations of revolutionary subjectivity Through a methodologically minded critical reconstruction of the Marxian critique of political economy from the early writings up to the Grundrisse and Capital this study shows that the outcome of the historical movement of the objectified form of social mediation which has turned into the very alienated subject of social life i e capital is to develop as its own immanent determination the constitution of the self abolishing working class as a revolutionary subject A crucial element in this intellectual endeavour is the focus on the intrinsic connection between the specifically dialectical form of social science and its radical transformative content Research Methodology: Techniques and Trends Mr. P. Ramanathan, Dr. Mohd Kaish, Dr. Subbarao Kolavennu, Dr. S. Velayutham, 2025-12-16 Research Methodology Techniques and Trends focuses on systematic approaches used to conduct scientific and academic research It covers research design problem formulation and hypothesis development Various qualitative and quantitative research techniques are explained Data collection methods such as surveys experiments and case studies are discussed Statistical and analytical tools are used for data interpretation The subject highlights recent trends like data analytics AI based research and interdisciplinary studies Ethical issues and research integrity are emphasized throughout the process Technology driven tools improve accuracy and efficiency in research Overall it equips researchers with modern skills for effective knowledge creation Standard Catalog: Social Sciences Section H.W. Wilson Company, 1927 Nature, 1881 Research Methods in Education William Wiersma, 1976 Sociology CN Shankar Rao, 2012 This textbook has been comprehensively written to acquaint the students with the fundamental concepts of sociology as well as provide an introduction to the diverse field of sociology. Students will be introduced to the origins of sociology as a discipline and would get acquainted with relevant topics such as inequality, institutions, control, change, disorganisation, problems in the society. Topics such as applied sociology and social thought have also been provided to give a complete overview of the subject. This textbook not only caters as a primary text to the undergraduate students of Sociology but is also a useful reference for postgraduate students and aspirants appearing for various competitive examinations.
