available as a first source to consult when an issue first arises It combines legal advice information suggested activities and a series of tips from headteachers who have dealt with such issues before New headteachers in particular would be well advised to read the section on media interviews before they are rushed into statements they later regret Looking after Yourself is a section that leaders would be well advised to skim through periodically as a reminder as it is the kind of advice that gets forgotten in the hurly burly of school life Brian Fidler Professor of Education Management University of Reading Distilled from years of NAHT National Association of Head Teachers experience of providing advice and guidance for its members in the UK The Quick Reference Handbook for School Leaders is a practical guide that provides an answer to the questions Where do I start and Where do I look for direction Written in an easy to read bulleted format the handbook is organised around key sections each part includes brief overviews checklists and suggestions for further reading o Organisation and Management the role of the Headteacher negligence and liability media relations managing conflict and difficult people effective meetings inspection resource management records and information o Teaching and Learning curriculum learning communities special education evaluation staff development unions celebrating success o Behaviour and Discipline safe schools code of conduct exclusion search and seizure police protocols o Health and Safety child protection issues occupational health safety risk assessments emergency preparation medical needs health safety resources o Looking After Yourself continuing professional development and work life balance This handbook is an excellent resource for all current and aspiring senior school leaders Allyn and Bacon Quick Guide to the Internet for Child Development Sharon Milburn,Doug Gotthoffer,2000 Self-science Karen Stone-McCown,Joshua M. Freedman,Anabel L. Jensen,Marsha C. Rideout,1998 Self Science is a curriculum and a process for teaching social and emotional skills It is a flexible framework where students do activities or experiments that lead to discussion and learning The students own experiences concerns and questions drive the content so the process works with people from all kinds of backgrounds all ages an all levels Self Science fuses cognitive and affective learning students build feeling and thinking skills at the same time Rather than telling children what not to do Self Science provides multiple options of what to do It helps children become more aware of themselves and make more conscious decisions about the ways they think feel and act independently and interdependently Nationally and internationally parents and teachers are increasingly concerned about school culture and emotional intelligence competencies Issues of exclusion violence depression and under achievement are all addressed within this preventative comprehensive program Self Science so named because emotional intelligence grows from the study of ourselves and our relationships is one of the few comprehensive developmental and research based curricula for creating a school wide culture of emotional intelligence The Self Science program creates a fundamental shift in the structure of the school toward collaboration inclusion and humanism Part of the power of Self Science is its flexibility Once a facilitator understands how a lesson flows she or he can easily adapt any current topics other exercises and even academic subject matter into the lessons

In addition Self Science can be taught as a stand alone class or folded into existing programs such as class meetings advisory life skills or community service
