

1.1 Summary of the adjustment in IS-LM model

1.2 IS-LM model and the adjustment process

1. The IS-LM model is a two-equation model that determines the real interest rate and output in a two-sector economy. The IS curve represents the goods market equilibrium, and the LM curve represents the money market equilibrium.
2. The IS curve is downward-sloping, and the LM curve is upward-sloping. The IS-LM intersection point determines the equilibrium real interest rate and output.
3. A decrease in the money stock shifts the LM curve up, and the new equilibrium is at a higher real interest rate and lower output.
4. The IS-LM model is a static model, and it does not take account of the adjustment process over time.
5. The IS-LM model is a partial equilibrium model, and it does not take account of the effects of the adjustment process on the rest of the economy.
