- Consumable activities are the ones that will reduce the nation's income. They produce a net outflow of resources.
- These activities are divided into:
  - Primary sector: It includes activities like agriculture, fishing, hunting etc.
  - Secondary Sector: It includes manufacturing and extraction.
  - Tertiary sector: It includes activities like transport, servicing, trading etc.
- All consumable activities are profitable due to the fact that they make contributions to consumable savings. However, society might not offer savings to individuals, activities which give income or consumption to people other than those who are involved in Market activities. However, they will contribute the flow of gross value added to GDP. Government activities, production of goods for sale, and non-market services. These market activities do not provide the individual an income. They are done for self-consumption. The income is given nothing is done about them for income is being given to them from society.
- The non-market activities done by individuals are not paid. Hence are included in national income. However, if this activity, like cooking, is performed for someone then it can be included.
- Education and skills of individuals however for education, as skilled people can perform better work than a person without any skills. However, generally there are skills and tech education that is not included in GDP but is given.
