Play in Healthcare for Adults Alison Tonkin, Julia Whitaker, 2016-06-23 PLAY We all do it wordplay love play role play we play cards play sport play the fool and play around And that's just the grown ups It features in every aspect of our lives whether we call it by that or another name We all do it but why do we do it What does it mean to play and what if any difference does it make to our lives Most crucially and central to the theme of this book is the question Does play have a positive impact on our health and wellbeing and consequently a role in modern healthcare delivery The contributors to this book provide a comprehensive overview of how play and play based activities can be used throughout the adult lifespan to promote health and wellbeing within the context of healthcare service delivery for patients their families and communities and for the staff involved in their care Responding to current global health concerns such as obesity coronary heart disease dementia and mental health the book argues that play and playfulness offer a means of protection promotion and recovery of positive health and wellbeing The human tendency for play and playfulness as essential to personal growth and development lie at the heart of the discussion This book will be of interest to all those working in health or social care settings including nursing social work and allied health students and professionals and those working within the therapeutic disciplines of art therapy music therapy and recreation alliances

Parenting a Happy Child Peter Claver Ugo, 2018-10-19 A Latin adage says Dat quod non habet meaning No one gives what he does not have This wise saying makes sense in the business of parenting We are in an age where children are begetting children due to lack of knowledge which contributes to rampant teenage pregnancy It gets complicated when a teenager who should still need parental care becomes a parent This book examines some of the fundamental precautions that should be taken from the moment of conception such as the effects of toxins or teratogens that could affect the health of the baby in the womb Every parent who has the good of their baby in the womb in mind should know about these toxins and avoid putting them into their body The fundamentals to parenting with resilience and grace lies in the sacred nature of the human body as presented in this book Any form of physical and emotional abuse or addiction to alcohol and substances of abuse that can pose danger to the unborn baby or a child should be avoided The need for the parents to form a secure attachment with the baby cannot be underestimated as insecure attachment could result to lifelong emotional and psychological imbalance in the child if not properly addressed This book also seeks to emphasize that no two persons are ever the same not even identical twins Therefore the former idea in parenting that tends to say that one size fits all is untenable when it comes to raising a child who can live true to his or her nature I have in this book explored the various traits and energy movements that could inform the personality of your child and offer best practice tips to raise each child to be happy and successful Many behavioral warning signs that could show when the child is not properly being raised or abused are discussed Finally some measures that could be taken to arrest the effects of poor parenting and healing of a traumatized inner child are equally presented It is my sincere hope that many will find this book a good guide and reference book in raising their children

Medical and Health Care Books and Serials in Print ,1997 Research Priorities Concerning Formal and Informal Learning in Low- and Middle-Income Countries Julie Ann Robinson,Josafá Moreira Da Cunha ,Peter Baguma,2026-01-06 The priority areas for research in low and middle income countries are often markedly different from those in high income countries Because most high impact academic journals are staffed by editors and reviewers from high income countries these priorities are poorly represented in most of journals even though they affect the lives of the world s majority population This outcome impedes the dissemination of the evidence

necessary to achieve sustainable development goals held by low and middle income countries It also limits the expansion of knowledge in high income countries since insights into many underlying processes can be gained only from studying contexts and populations that are available exclusively in low and middle income countries This Research Topic focuses on those research priorities in low and middle income countries that are related to education broadly defined to include formal and informal learning at all stages in the lifespan Education was chosen as a focus because it is critical mechanism for achieving many international development goals including those relating to young children s school readiness school children s academic skills adolescents vocational skills adult farmers agricultural extension courses or older adults understanding of health literacy campaigns Research in many disciplines is required to make progress in formal and informal education on low and middle income countries and formal and informal education is relevant to the key areas of interest in many disciplines Therefore this Research Topic invites submissions from researchers in psychology e g attitudinal factors affecting access lived experience and outcomes of students in primary secondary and tertiary education education e g effective pedagogies in low resource settings nutrition e g the effects of protein energy or micronutrient malnutrition on learning linguistics e g challenges in teaching literacy skills in tonal languages public health e g relationship between access to menstrual sanitation in schools and girls school attendance the efficacy of public education campaigns concerning female genital cutting anthropology e g Indigenous concepts about learning and knowledge In addition regardless of their discipline we welcome submissions concerning formal or informal education in but not limited to special populations e g retraining programs for former child soldiers informal learning by children of sex workers and street involved children parenting classes to support the development of children affected by tropical diseases such as Zika virus and cerebral malaria cultural issues e g interventions to improve educational equity for students from low castes the relationship between child marriage and educational equity for girls Due to the nature of this collection the Topic Editors are requesting that one author of each paper is a resident in a low or middle income country Types of manuscripts Original quantitative and qualitative empirical research Narrative and meta analytic systematic reviews Evaluations of the implementation or effectiveness of interventions or policies Development of culturally and contextually appropriate measures and research methods Life Span Human Development Carol K. Sigelman,Linda De George,Kimberley Cunial,Elizabeth A. Rider,2018-09-01 The third edition of Life Span Human Development helps students gain a deeper understanding of the many interacting forces affecting development from infancy childhood adolescence and adulthood It includes local multicultural and indigenous issues and perspectives local research in development regionally relevant statistical information and National guidelines on health Taking a unique integrated topical and chronological approach each chapter focuses on a domain of development such as physical growth cognition or personality and traces developmental trends and influences in that domain from infancy to old age Within each chapter you will find sections on four life stages infancy childhood adolescence and adulthood This distinctive organisation enables students to comprehend the processes of transformation that occur in key areas of human development This text also includes a MindTap course offering with a strong suite of resources including videos and the chronological sections within the text can be easily customised to suit academic and student needs
