

Discussion Questions for Bud, Not Buddy

Courtesy of:

Living in Foster Homes

Why do you think life in foster homes was especially difficult during the 1930s?

How did you picture Bud's everyday life in "the home"? In the Amos's home?

Independence

Bud chose to leave the foster system and set out on his own. Why do you think Bud made this choice, while other kids chose to stay?

Bud's independent spirit helped him survive a difficult life. How might an independent spirit be helpful to a young person in different situations?

A Real Family

What makes a real family?

Are there any things we can do to help kids who are still in a difficult family situation?

The Great Depression

What did you learn in history class about the Great Depression that might apply to this story?

How did the Great Depression affect the everyday lives of parents and kids in America?

Poverty

What does it mean to live in poverty?

Poverty may cause people to take desperate measures that they wouldn't ordinarily try (such as "riding the rails" west in hopes of finding work). Do you think this still happens today? Explain.

Jazz Music

The 1920's was a time for fun. People enjoyed going out, dancing, and listening to jazz music. The 1930's was completely different, but people still enjoyed listening to jazz. Why do you think jazz was popular during this time?

In the story, jazz music provided a good living for Herman E. Calloway's band. What do you think the life of a professional musician would be like?

Characters

Each of Bud's young friends is an interesting character, even though they are not main characters in the story. How would you describe each of these characters?

Jerry (Bud's friend at "the home")

Bug's (Jerry's friend "on the lam")

Deza (the girl Bud met at the Hooverville)

Herman E. Calloway, the band leader who turned out to be Bud's grandfather, is a character who seems to change throughout the story, or at least what we know about him changes. How would you describe Mr. Calloway during most of the story? How would you describe him at the end?

Learning to Predict and Predicting to Learn Thomas DeVere Wolsey,Douglas Fisher,2009 Featuring practical instructional routines that are clearly linked to cognitive strategies students need to make sense of text this book combines a rationale written from the perspective of current research that supports the use of the strategy or instructional routine with clear step by step directions and multiple examples from the classroom experiences of teachers across the United States These experiences appear as boxed features that are easily identifiable by the reader The text is written in such a way that readers may start on page one and work through the end of the book or use the book as a reference for their own practice or as an inservice tool Each cognitive strategy is linked via convenient matrices to the instructional routines that promote precision thinking on the part of students Features Differentiation between cognitive strategies for students and instructional routines teachers might use Provides teachers and preservice teachers with a means to think about the tools they use to promote cognitive proficiency on the part of students Often strategies are used a catch all term that does not clarify the difference between what teachers do and how students incorporate learn from those routines Boxed features Real teachers explain how they have used the tools discussed in the book Provides teachers with examples to which they may be able to relate Instead of an isolated example the voices of classroom teachers will explain how they have implemented instructional routines or promoted cognitive strategies for their students Sound rationale coupled with step by step procedures Teachers often like to know what works but many texts ignore their need and desire to know why a strategy or routine works This text links rationale with tools so that readers will be able to explain why they are using a routine or assisting students to use cognitive tools to understand how they might think more precisely about the books they read Theme Prediction Prediction is a popular request teachers make of their students but often teachers lack sufficient experience or rationale to know how students might use prediction to increase precision in thinking about books and other texts they read Approach Combination of both theoretical and research with useful tools students and teachers can implement tomorrow Many books take either a theoretical approach with little classroom application provided or a practical approach that does not help teachers understand why a given tool is useful and under what circumstances This book combines the best of both approaches to help teacher readers understand why a strategy or routine is worth the instructional time that might be devoted to it Learning Through Academic Choice Paula Denton,2005 Giving children choices leads to deep engagement in learning This comprehensive guidebook shows you step by step how to give children structured meaningful choices about what and how they learn Within any curriculum the powerful teaching strategy of Academic Choice will help you create a classroom culture in which children see themselves and each other as capable learners Classroom Literacy Assessment Jeanne R. Paratore,Rachel L. McCormack,2007-04-04 Showcasing assessment practices that can help teachers plan effective instruction this book addresses the real world complexities of teaching literacy in grades K 8 Leading contributors present trustworthy approaches that examine learning processes as well as learning products that yield information on how the learning environment can be improved and that are conducted in the context of authentic reading and writing activities The volume provides workable nuts and bolts ideas for incorporating assessment into instruction in all major literacy domains and with diverse learners including students in high poverty schools and those with special learning needs It is illustrated throughout with helpful concrete examples For a Better World Randy Bomer,Katherine Bomer,2001 Randy and Katherine Bomer present a new vision of curriculumone that invites students to read with important social ideas in mind and write with the purpose of making the world a better place Engaging

Readers & Writers with Inquiry Jeffrey D. Wilhelm,2007 Invigorate your teaching and simplify your lesson planning with inquiry With this book learn to develop an essential question that students will be engaged by and then plan lessons activities and projects that support students as they pursue answers and understandings Addresses all the content areas Children's Literature Abstracts ,1999 Teaching for Comprehending and Fluency Irene C. McEachern,2004-03 The Instructor s Wraparound Edition provides comprehensive instructional support for Contemporary Economics The lesson plan format is incorporated right in the margins providing the tools you need to lead students from learning to applying to owning the economic material All solutions are included in the margins as well as additional ideas background and projects for different learning styles and ability levels Unit Overviews contain pacing guides and identify coverage of NCEE standards in the upcoming chapters Bud, Not Buddy Lit Link Gr. 4-6 , Teaching Reading in the Middle Grades James A. Rycik,Judith L. Irvin,2005 Unlike any other text Teaching Reading in the Middle Grades provides a balanced readable analysis of recent documents developed by professional organizations researchers and government agencies including the National Council of Teachers of English the International Reading Association and the National Reading Panel With its careful balance of the different dimensions presented in current research outlining that the teacher not only the method is a crucial factor in student achievement this text helps students grasp the scope and complexity of student achievement in Literacy Mrs. Frisby and the Rats of Nimh, by Robert C. O'Brien Anne Troy,2000 Mrs Frisby a widowed mouse with four small children is faced with a terrible problem She must move her family to their summer quarters immediately or face almost certain death But her youngest son Timothy lies ill with pneumonia and must not be moved Fortunately she encounters the rats of NIMH an extraordinary breed of highly intelligent creatures who come up with a brilliant solution to her dilemma And Mrs Frisby in turn renders them a great service Books Kids Will Sit Still For 3: A Read-Aloud Guide Judy Freeman,2006-04-30 A guide to captivating read alouds for grades K through 6 with tips on effective reading aloud storytelling and classroom and library activities It also includes references to related titles that help teachers and librarians plan effective programs and instill a love of books and reading as well as a bibliography of professional books Achieving Excellence Frances A. Karnes,Kristen R. Stephens,2008 Achieving Excellence Educating The Gifted and Talented provides foundational information relating to the field of gifted education i e history laws etc details characteristics of gifted students from various populations describes how such students are identified and assessed and presents up to date research based pedagogy relating to curriculum design and instruction It draws upon experts in the field to present content in a practical way so that it is applicable to pre service and classroom teachers Chapter summaries and questions for thought and reflection are included at the end of each chapter to help guide classroom discussion In addition each chapter provides a listing of useful resources that enables the reader to extend their learning on a particular topic or issue

Children's Literature Diana Mitchell, Pamela Waterbury, Rose Casement, 2003 Children s Literature An Invitation to the World is written and organized in a manner that engages the readers and that will instill confidence in teachers when selecting and using literature in their teaching Readers are asked to take a world view of literature what it is how to recognize one s own how to recognize an author s and encouraged to see children s literature through a lens that includes people not like themselves The book tackles tough issues such as gender and racial bias and how they can be insidiously promoted in literature No other book on the market engages readers more than this one Rather than just presenting topics the book asks What can we learn from them In addition the first person narrative involves readers in the discussion rather than simply presenting content to them Elementary and middle school teachers curriculum developers and anyone interested in children s literature
