Mitchell Leary,1997 The Accreditation Board for

Engineering Technology ABET requires that safety and health be integrated into an engineering curriculum in order to be accredited. These criteria for safety and health requirements however are not clearly defined. The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) has initiated Project SHAPE (Safety and Health Awareness for Preventative Engineering) instructional topics and curriculum development for engineering programs for the greater than 300 ABET accredited engineering schools. The present study was designed to evaluate how important safety and health addressed as Environmental Safety and Health knowledge education are to an employer when seeking graduating Bachelor of Science Engineering students at Oregon State University (OSU). The study also seeks to find out what magnitude of ES (how important ES, what kind and level of ES) and if a graduating B.S. Engineering student with ES/H knowledge education was more likely to gain employment with their firm. A total of 72 surveys were returned for an overall response rate of 65.5%. The results indicated that recruiters seeking graduating B.S. engineering students at OSU found ES/H knowledge education Not Too or Not At All important when considering them for employment. However, the majority of those recruiters that indicated ES/H was an important qualification when considering an engineering candidate for employment indicated the source of ES/H knowledge education was through integration into the engineering curriculum.
