Writing the Mountains Jens Klenner,2024-05-16 Writing the Mountains reconsiders the role of mountains in German language fiction from 1800 to the present and argues that in a range of texts from E T A Hoffmann s Die Bergwerke zu Falun 1819 to Elfriede Jelinek s Die Kinder der Toten 1995 and beyond mountains serve as dynamic spaces of material change that generate aesthetic and narrative innovation In contrast to dominant critical approaches to the Alpine landscape in literature in which mountain ranges often features as passive settings or which trace the influence of geographical and geological sciences in literary productions this study argues for the dynamic role in literature of presumably rigid mineral structures In German language fiction after 1800 the counter intuitive topology of rocky mountain ranges and unfathomable subterranean depths of the Alpine imaginary functions as a space of exception which appears to reconfirm and radically challenge the foundations of Enlightenment thought Writing the Mountains reads the mountain range as a rigid yet permeable liminal space Within this zone semiotic orders are unsettled as is the division between organic and inorganic between the human and the other
