Auditing Cases Gbv:

Human Rights and Gender Based Violence in Asia Fozia Nazir Lone, Guobin Zhu, Anthony Carty, 2025-11-24 This edited book adopts a prescriptive and culturally relative narrative to understand and critique human rights within Asia. Simultaneously it aims to understand how human rights especially such as women's rights are practised and protected by Asian nations. The book evaluates the realisation of Eurocentric human rights by Asian states in line with their domestic needs and priorities. It delineates the alien nature of western standards of human rights for Asia. Contributors focus on varied geographical contexts including South Asia, China and Vietnam. The chapters also cover the protection of women's rights in conflict zones in Myanmar, Kashmir and Afghanistan as well as regional human rights mechanisms. Covering a diverse region, this book will be of interest to researchers and students of international human rights, feminism and gender studies particularly in the Asian context.

Ending Gender-Based Violence Hannah E. Britton, 2020-04-16 South African women's still increasing presence in local, provincial and national institutions has inspired sweeping legislation aimed at advancing women's rights and opportunity. Yet the country remains plagued by sexual assault, rape and intimate partner violence. Hannah E. Britton examines the reasons gendered violence persists in relationship to social inequalities even after women assume political power. Venturing into South African communities, Britton invites service providers, religious and traditional leaders, police officers and medical professionals to address gender based violence in their own words. Britton finds the recent turn toward carceral solutions with a focus on arrests and prosecutions fails to address the complexities of the problem and looks at how changing specific community dynamics can defuse interpersonal violence. She also examines how place and space affect the implementation of policy and suggests practical ways policymakers can support street level workers. Clear eyed and revealing, Ending Gender Based Violence offers needed tools for breaking cycles of brutality and inequality around the world.

Gender-Based Violence in Canadian Politics in the #MeToo Era Tracey Raney, Cheryl N. Collier, 2024-05-01 Gender based violence in politics is a significant and growing problem that threatens the democratic process in Canada. Despite its prevalence little academic research has been conducted on this topic to date. Gender Based Violence in Canadian Politics in the MeToo Era raises awareness of and presents new innovative research on this timely and pressing public issue. Here leading experts from across Canada uncover critical new insights and identify potential solutions that would help address gender based violence in politics, improve gender equality and strengthen Canadian democracy. Using an intersectional lens, chapters range in their approaches, offer new concepts and measures of gender based violence in online political spaces, political media coverage and cartoons, campaigns, municipal politics and legislatures and explore Indigenous ways of knowing about gender based violence in Canadian politics. Additionally the volume presents recommendations for decision makers, policymakers, anti violence advocates and the academic community on how to best address the problem of gender based violence in the political sphere
