

Performance Task answer

Reporting to the President

Below are the answers to the questions that you will be asked about the report. You will be asked to explain your answers to the questions.

1. When building a dam, there are many things that need to be considered. One of the most important things to consider is the location of the dam. The dam should be built in a place where there is a lot of water. Another important thing to consider is the height of the dam. The dam should be tall enough to hold back the water. Finally, the dam should be built in a place where there is a lot of land. This is because the dam will be used to generate electricity, and there needs to be a lot of land to hold the water.

A dam that is built in a place where there is a lot of water will be used to generate electricity. A dam that is built in a place where there is a lot of land will be used to hold the water. A dam that is built in a place where there is a lot of water and a lot of land will be used to generate electricity and hold the water.
